WE NOMINATE

Hans Rosenhaupt, one of this country's most able and long-visioned educational administrators, who is entering upon his second decade as National Director of the Princeton-based National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation. This past week, with the blessing of Mrs. Martin Luther King, the 57-year old Rosenhaupt announced the establishment of the Martin Luther King Fellowships which will offer promising Negro veterans of the Armed Forces approximately $5,000 tax-free per year to undertake graduate studies leading to careers in those sectors of the public service where enlightened and understanding leadership is so desperately needed.

Strongly reminiscent of the manner in which the original Wilson Fellowships were brought into being in 1945 as a way of interesting high-talent World War II returnees in the profession of teaching and scholarship, the King Fellowships, Rosenhaupt explains, are for the type of individual "who could probably step into an $8,000 executive training program with IBM or somebody like that. We want to give them the option of service. We will be asking these men to go through a couple of more years of sweat and tears so they can really do some service for their country and for those citizens with whom we are so deeply concerned."

A preliminary $200,000 grant from The Rockefeller Foundation will enable Rosenhaupt and his associates to launch the new program, one of the most meaningful tributes yet conceived as an enduring memorial to the assassinated Negro statesman. This will be enough to guarantee two years of study, starting next fall, for some 20 Martin Luther King Fellows. Eventually it is Rosenhaupt's hope that the Wilson Foundation can command $2.5 million a year to sustain 500 scholarships annually, or approximately half the number of Wilson Fellowships the Foundation was once able to award each spring to American and Canadian students in support of an exploratory year of graduate study.

In the past year the Wilson Fellowship Foundation (32 Nassau Street), which Rosenhaupt joined in 1958 following 10 years as director of Columbia University's graduate admissions, has completely overhauled its operations. With the withdrawal of Ford Foundation subsidies, amounting to $52 million in the period 1957-1967, the Wilson Foundation rather than making direct grants to outstanding students now designates the college seniors, men and women, it deems the "best future college teacher prospects on the North American continent."

The author of several major works, ranging from a convincing war-experience novel, "The True Deceivers," to the wide-ranging "Graduate Students' Experience at Columbia University, 1910-1956," the German-born Rosenhaupt, a decorated American Army veteran of the Second World War, has done as much as any American educator in "steaming up" oncoming generations about careers in teaching. In the early 1960's, for instance, he started directing encouraging letters to college-bound high school seniors earning distinction through National Merit Scholarships and the Westinghouse Science Talent Search. His objective: to urge them to look far ahead — four years in fact — to graduate work in preparing for service as college professors.

For hoping to catch "the best of the Negro veterans before they are recruited by big business;" for extending to others invitations and opportunities for achievement; for understanding that "quantity alone is never enough" in a turbulent world all too often prone to overlook quality; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

"HE LOOKS JUST GREAT!" The banner was out for Cpl. Mario Trani, 20, when he came home last week after 13 months in Vietnam. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Trani of 247 Valley Road, he will be on leave until May 1, and most of the time his buddy in Vietnam will be staying here with him. He has been serving in Marine Corps communications and was in the midst of the Tet battle at Hue and later at Khe Sanh. (Staff photo)

This Is Princeton

WHAT MUST BE DONE? Come to "Open House." All residents of the Princeton community — Borough and Township — are invited to an informal open house next Tuesday evening at Borough Hall to talk with municipal officials about what needs to be done to make Princeton a better town in which to live.

The open house will begin at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Henry S. Patterson and all Borough Councilmen will stay as long as anybody wants to talk. Residents can drop in at 9 a.m., if that's more convenient, and find mayor and Council ready to listen.

The suggestion for the meeting came from a Princeton minister who told Mayor Patterson he didn't want to be identified, and from a letter written by a Princeton resident.

"This isn't just a one-shot affair," the mayor explained to the press. "People are more conscious of Princeton's problems now than they were before the murder of Martin Luther King. We want to take advantage of this awareness and make sure we know what people regard as our worst problems."

He added that people who want to talk with him privately can make appointments by calling Administrator Robert F. Mooney, 924-8110, and he reminded Princeton residents that they can always come to Council meetings and speak out.

You, Too, Can Act. Meanwhile, a private Township citizen, Leonard F. Newton, 90 Dempsey Avenue, has drawn up a list of "95 Princeton Opportunities." His suggestions are gathered into a booklet called "The Negro in Princeton: What Must Be Done," available at the reference desk of the public library or by calling Mr. Newton 924-0861.

Drawing his inspiration from Martin Luther's 95 Theses of Reformation days, Mr. Newton has jotted down many more than 95 (the number is symbolic) suggestions for Princetonians.

But Mr. Newton isn't just making lists. He wants action. He provides three columns in his book: "Person or group accepting this assignment:" "Date Begun:" "Date Completed." Under most items is the name and telephone of the contact man.

EMPLOYMENT

Mr. Newton begins his 15 page booklet with jobs, specifically urging support for the "Job Fete" and its goal of 100 summer jobs. Then:

● The business community of this area should take the lead in hiring, upgrading and training people in the depressed areas of Princeton and its environs.

Organize one-the-job training or special after-work classes. Organize, finance and give management guidance to new small business enterprises owned and run by Negroes.

Patronize Negro-owned businesses and make a directory of them. (Al Ross' Sinclair Station, Christine's Beauty Salon, Mrs. Doris Burrell's Beauty Salon, The Imperial Restaurant, Brown's House Cleaning Service, Braxton Ellerbe's Floor Sanding Company are a starter.)

Find out who the lowest-paid employees in Princeton are (garbage collectors? maintenance men? domestics?) and see whether they need help in securing their rights.

Revise hiring, training, upgrading and other employment policies to encourage employment of the disadvantaged.

Hire more YES (Youth Employment Service) young people.

Make sure local governments and schools integrate labor on publicly-financed construction projects.

Work with young men and women who haven't much inclination to become involved in American economic life.

HOUSING

● Persuade Princeton real estate agents that racial discrimination in rental or sale isn't in the best interests of themselves or the Princeton community.

● Develop a revolving fund to provide money for down payments and second mortgages to encourage home-ownership and a stake in the community.

Support Princeton Community Housing's proposal to build lower-middle income housing in both Borough and Township.

Start a volunteer group which will make home repairs, or do clean-up, paint-up, fix-up, either for a nominal sum or free of charge, for home-owners or renters who can't get this work done otherwise.

EDUCATION

● Support the development of a strong vocational education program in the Princeton Regional Schools.

Try to get a "head start" summer program like LAUNCH put back into the Princeton Regional Schools' budget for disadvantaged children of all economic levels.

Support financially the Princeton Study Center, which gives a study environment and tutorial help to youngsters in need.

ENVIRONMENT

● Get the Borough to hurry with the repaving of John Street.

See whether residents would not like to have paving on Shirley Court, Berrien Court, Margerum Court, and consider the re-paving of Witherspoon Lane.

Persuade Borough and Township officials that densely populated areas need more frequent street cleaning and litter pick-up than areas of lighter population.

RECREATION

● Desegregate the YMCA, financially, psychologically and by changing the kinds of programs it offers young men, so that the YMCA will no longer under-represent the Negro and disadvantaged young men of Princeton.

Work out ways in which Princeton boys and girls can earn "swimming scholarships" if they can't afford a summer pool ticket.

Install basketball courts and other recreation facilities in the Community Park parking lot.

SOCIAL

● Desegregate: Jaycees, Lions, American Legion, Eagles, Elks, Kiwanis, Masons, Soroptimists, (Rotary has two Negro members), Princeton's fire companies, First Aid Squad, Princeton Hospital Board of Trustees, Springdale Golf Club, Present Day Club, Bedens Brook Club, Pine Brae Country Club.

pattern, each company schould have ten Negro employees for every 100 persons employed.

Organize 100 privileged Princeton families and 100 disadvantaged Princeton families into a friendship group for one year, reporting frequently to the community on the results and experiences in communication.

Organize continuing dialogues between smaller groups of Negroes both privileged and disadvantaged, and whites, privileged and disadvantaged.

COMMUNITY

● How are relations between police and residents of higher density neighborhoods? How well do the courts function where minority groups are concerned?

Help a Negro doctor become affiliated with Princeton Hospital. Help a Negro dentist become established in town. Is there racial discrimination in health care?

Establish a "Well Baby Clinic" in the Township like the one in the Borough.

Find out how residents of Birch and Leigh Avenues feel about the bars that operate in that residential area.

Have Princeton officials placed as much emphasis on correcting the conditions that cause civil disturbance, as on handling them? How will Princeton handle any such disturbance?

Work out a plan to make unsold seats at McCarter or Murray Theatre available at nominal cost to people who want to attend the theatre or concerts but can't afford it.

Form an inter-denominational, inter-racial Sunday School.

Set up denominational dialogues: Princeton Methodist with Mt. Pisgah A.M.E.; St. Andrews Presbyterian and First Presbyterian with Witherspoon Presbyterian; Calvary Baptist with First Baptist.

Find out what can be done about several unoccupied houses in the John-Witherspoon area. Can they be made habitable?

Mr. Newton points out that his "95" are starting thoughts, open to revision and amplification. A vice-President of Opinion Research Corporation, Mr. Newton has been active for many years in inter-racial affairs in Princeton. He was a founder a dozen years ago, of the Princeton Housing Group, formed to work for "open housing" in the community.

PHONE COMPANY STRUCK But Calls Go Through. Management and supervisory personnel manned the switchboards for New Jersey Bell Telephone this week as more than 8,300 installers and linemen went on strike and 7,100 operators observed their picket lines. The walkout was three days in advance of a nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers called for Thursday afternoon.

Fifteen years ago, the last state wide strike caused a partial paralysis of telephonic communication in New Jersey, with many communities still awaiting dial systems. Princeton was among them.

Today, however, all local and direct long-distance calls are being made without delay because of the highly-automated system. Calls which require an operator are being handled non-union members at the supervisory and management levels — many of them men.

Some delays in completing such calls have been encountered. However, unless the strike lasts for a matter of weeks (as some union leaders predict) little inconvenience to the public is anticipated as long as repairs are not required and cable slashing does not reach major proportions. Installations, of course, will wait.

STUDENTS MARCH

And Thompson Talks. Some 150 Princeton University students and other members of Students for a Democratic Society marched from Nassau Hall to Morvea, the residence of Gov. Richard J. Hughes, late Thursday afternoon, where they heard Rep. Frank Thompson speak on urban programs.

Rep. Thompson predicted that President Johnson and Gov. Hughes would both propose massive urban programs in the near future, but asserted that "overwelmingly conservative legislatures" will defeat them. The students had called for more government money for cities and Negro community control of police, welfare agencies, schools and poverty programs.

The undergraduate Association of Black Collegians had been co-sponsoring the march, but withdrew its support for organizational reasons.

UPSURGE REPORTED

In Pool Applications. The warm weather of the past few days has been recorded not only on Princeton thermometers but in the Township Hall office of the Princeton Recreation Center.

"We've had a tremeadous upswing in the number of application for pool permits," said Donald Barr, Recreation Director. To date, 495 tennis permits have been issued to adults and children and 346 pool permits, representing about $5200 in permit sales.

"This is just about where we were last year at this time," observed Edward Bescham, assistant recreation director who overseees the operation of the three-pool complex at Community Park. Last year, the first in the operation of the pools, about 4300 individual pool memberships were issued.

NEW TOWNSHIP HALL

In Two Years. All Princeton architects — about 26 in number . . . have been invited to talk with Township officials about a new Township Hall for Princeton .

The Township estimates that it needs about 18,000 more square feet to run the municipality, and department heads are now reviewing the space survey made in 1963 to see whether it still fits the 1968 needs.

Joseph R. Nini, Administrator, says officials hope for completion by 1970 of a structure which might cost $5-6 million. No decision has been made about location but the building will definitely be in the present Township Hall area.

Probably, Mr. Nini surmises, the present Hall will be left standing. A separate building might be so designed that the present Hall could be used now, but razed in 15 or 20 years, Mr. Nini suggested.

The Annex, which houses the engineering department, zoning and planning offices and the board of health, will be removed to another part of the Township for some kind of municipal use. That was the origianl plan when the Annex was built.

So far, 10 architects have told Mr. Nini they are interested. Architects have been invited to meet with a sub-committee of Township Committee consisting of Committeeman Harry J. Volweider, who is a building contractor, with Township engineer Frank Quinby and Mr. Nini. After interveiwing all who are interested, the sub-committee will recommend an architect to the full Committee.

MORE FOR SEWERS

Rates Increased. Township Committee introduced Monday night an ordinance increasing sewer-use rates from $20 to $30 per year. The rates apply to all properties connected to the sewer lines.

The ordinance also increases the rate for volume users of the sewer. Anyone using over 15,000 cubic feet a year (by metered water company readings), will pay $2 instead of $1.50 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Sewer operations are designed to pay for themselves, and the Township anticipates a $16,000 deficit for 1968 in sewer operation.

Committee passed, subject to state approval, the ordinance changing parking regulations on Witherspoon Street near Princeton Hospial and across Witherspoon from Community Park.

A request from residents to change "Duffield Place" to "Greenland Place" was tabled for discussion.

Committeeman William L. Wilson, who holds the housing portfolio on Committee, reported that the Township will join with the Borough's housing authority to plan future low-income housing. Either the Borough's authority will act as the Township agent, or some kind of joint authority will be formed. Thomas Cook, attorney for the Borough Housing Authority is preparing the legal instruments.

Committee voted to give $600 toward renovating the war memorial at Nassau and Mercer. The American Legion is collecting funds for the project. Mrs. Elmer Alpert, Autumn Hill Road, protested that the money should be given to the Princeton Youth Center instead.

VANDALISM CONTINUES

Windows Main Target. "There seems to be a lot of vandalism, mainly broken windows." That was the way Chief Peter J. McCrohan prefaced his weekly press interview on Tuesday.

A 10-by-10-foot plate glass window was broken for the second time in two weeks at Forer's Pharmacy, 160 Witherspoon Street, during the weekend. This time, a rock left a four-inch hole in the window instead of shattering it.

A plate glass window at Helen Van Cleve, real estate broker, 9 Mercer Street, was broken, as was a 10 by 10-foot plate window at the American Finance Company, 32 Witherspoon Street.

In the latter, a 17-year-old Borough youth told police he was pushed through the window by "five cats" who had accosted him as he was walking up Witherspoon.

He was taken to Princeton Hospital early Friday morning by a friend where seven sutures were needed to close a gash in his leg. The youth told police he had placed his foot against the window to balance himself and it gave way. Sgt. Robert Anderson and Ptl. James Bloor investigated.

Two to three small front panes of Gordon's Radio Service, 221 Witherspoon Street, were broken early in the week, but police said that nothing hand been taken.

Edward Grant, owner of the building at 184 Witherspoon Street, told police he had heard the sound of glass breaking. After calling the police, he went out to investigate.

Later, he told police that he had been hit on the head by a rock. He added that a group of youths had threatened him and told him to "get off the street."

Two Windshields Broken. The windshields of two moving cars were broken by rocks.

On Sunday, Carl Meeker, operating a Tiger Taxi, told police that a rock was thrown over a fence which struck his windshield and shattered it as he was driving on Wiggins Street. Earlier, Dennis Shrock of Blawenburg reported that an object broke his windshield as he was driving on Witherspoon just before the hospital entrance. He told police he did not see anyone around but was afraid to stop.

In other acts of vandalism, a five-foot stone pillar being erected at the drive-in bank branch of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company on Wiggins Street to support a directional sign was knocked over. Police said the pillar with a stone slab on top was valued at $600.

Thomas Bryant, superintendent of grounds and buildings for Princeton Seminary, reported during the weekend the someone had broken bottle and strewn beer cans in a Seminary lot across from the Springdale Golf Course, written obscene remarks on black boards in Stuart Hall and uprooted several hemlock bushes.

Two rear tires of a 1961 model car were slashed while it was parked on private property to the rear of The Cellar liquor store.

CANDIDATES NAMED

For Borough. Michael P. Erdman, 301 Elm Road, has joined Foster Jacobs on the Republican slate for Borough Council.

James Andrew, 43 Hibben Road, will again be a Council candidate for the Democrats. He ran last year and lost by only three votes. The second Democratic candidate has not yet been named.

Mr. Erdman is an architect, and is manager of the Princeton office of Alexander Ewing and Associates. He is a graduate of Princeton University and holds a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Pennsylvania. His father, Charles Erdman, is a member of the Borough Planning Board and was mayor of the Borough for six terms.

Mr. Jacobs, whose candidacy was announced some weeks ago, is an engineer. He is Manager of Plant and Operations at Princeton University.

The two new candidates replace precisely the retiring Republican Councilmen, William H. Walker and Alfred Sorenson. Mr. Walker is an architect and Mr. Sorenson an engineer.

Democrats in the Township have not yet announced candidates. Deadline for filing is next Thursday, April 25.

HAT IN THE RING?

Souter Expected to Run. Sydney S. Souter of Province Line Road has been endorsed by Republican chairmen of the four counties in this congressional district as the party's candidate for House of Representatives. If he accepts the nomination, as expected, he will oppose Rep. Frank Thomson Jr., long time Democratic incumbent.

Mr. Souter is currently serving as magistrate in Montgomery Township, a position he would need to resign in order to run for Congress. He is reportedly planning to do so shortly after he presides over municipal court Thursday night. He is an attorney whose offices are at 41 Nassau Street.

The Fourth District in New Jersey consists of Mercer, Hunterdon, Sussex and Warren Counties. It has not been served by a Republican for 20 years.

NEGRO ADMISSIONS SOAR

At Princeton University. The Admission Office of Princeton University has accepted 76 American Negroes into the class of 1972, more than three times the number accepted in any previous year.

Letters of acceptance were mailed Saturday to 1306 high school seniors, representing 46 states and 12 foreign countries. Director of Admissions John T. Osander expects a freshman class year of about 810, the same total as this year's class. Mr. Osander also noted an increase in the number of acceptances mailed to nearby states.

The increase in Negro acceptances is the result of more ambitious recruiting by the admissions office, alumni groups and Princeton's chapter of the Association of Black Collegians (ABC). A major innovation in recruiting technique has been to visit predominantly black city high schools.

Citing the report of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, Mr. Osander commented, "An institution such as Princeton must make it clearly known in 1968 that we put the highest possible priority on making opportunities in higher education available to promising black students."

The admissions office declared in 1963, under director E. Alden Dunham, that it was "actively seeking qualified Negro applicants." Effective recruiting, however, Mr. Osander noted, requires "a working relationship" with key people of the urban community, who may influence Negroes to apply and accept admission.

Mr. Osander said the Admissions Committee is now willing "to experiment more" in accepting students from black communities, especially those with disadvantaged educational backgrounds.

The increase in acceptances from urban communities has forced Princeton to refuse scholarship aid to some admitted applicants who required it. Although the number of students offered aid has increased slightly, the university did not have enough funds to give all qualified applicants adequate financial aid.

For this reason, Mr. Osander expects a greater number to decline admission this year. For the previous ten years, Mr. Osander commented, the university has had enough funds to provide all needed financial aid.

Another increase this year was in the number of sons of alumni who gained admission,

On every hill.

Sunshine brings smiles on all sides, and that has been pretty much the April story.

Temperatures will continue to average above normal for this time of year, with generally fair skies the forecast. The Man added that scattered showers are a weekend possibility, but he wasn't very emphatic about it.

from 158 last year to 203 this year. Mr. Osander said the increase was due to a more qualified group rather than a changing attitude in the admissions office toward alumni sons.

JOB TRAINING?

Youths May Go to Trenton. Some Princeton High School students may attend vocational classes in Trenton High School next year for a few hours each day, continuing as regular students at P.H.S.

The proposal, made originally by Mrs. Kathleen Edwards of the John-Witherspoon Civic Association, was repeated by her Tuesday night at a special vocational education meeting of the Princeton Regional Board of Education.

"I'd be happy to try it next year with at least a few students," agreed Kenneth Michael, P.H.S. principal. He said that P.H.S. doesn't have the facilities for a real vocational program. We are not so proud of ourselves in this area as we would like to be," he commented Superintendent Philip E. McPherson estimated the cost of sending youngsters to Trenton at $900 per pupil beyond present per pupil costs. Transportation would bring the cost even higher, but this would depend on the number of boys and girls in the program, the superintendent said.

He suggested that money could come from federal, state or county sources and he said that for $5,000, Princeton could run a pilot program for about five youngsters.

"Money shouldn't be the criterion," protested board member Harvey Rothberg. He said that P.H.S. students may not want to go outside their own district to classes, even for a few hours each day, and he suggested that P.H.S. might be a county-wide center for, say, the study of electronics.

Sixty-Five Attend. An audience of about 65 at the John Witherspoon School heard Eugene Biringer, principal of the Middle School, and Mrs. Ruth Lotz, Middle School Guidance Counselor, describe an eighth grade program scheduled to start in September.

Boys and girls will choose a teacher as "vocational exploration teacher - counselor." With the counselor, a student will talk over vocations, interview working people, make field trips and spend a whole day "on the job" after the arrangement has been made by parent, teacher, counselor, somebody from a civic organization or even a representative of the state's Department of Labor and Industry.

At Princeton High, Mr. Michael said he hopes to expand the current one-year Data Processing course with its 31 students to a two or three-year course, and extend "work-experience" programs so that every student who applies, may have a job during his senior year. He also plans a police cadet program, in which high-school boys will gain "work-experience" with the Township police force.

George Petrillo, head of the P.H.S. guidance department, said there are now 18 students in the "Neighborhood Youth Corps" earning $1.25 an hour in Federal funds by working in the school library, the principal's office, coaching basketball at John Witherspoon School or preparing tapes for speech therapy.

He explained that P.H.S. no longer identifies separately the "general" and the "college" student, and he observed that many "non-college" students eventually end up in colleges.

Parents Are Needed. From the audience, the Rev. Shelby Rooks asked how many black youngsters were involved in the vocational programs, and urged that parents be brought into the picture, perhaps through conferences after school hours.

Mr. Petrillo said 16 of the 18 Youth Corps youngsters were Negro and four of the 15 who took the recent Electronics Training Center exam. were Negro. Mr. Michael said that, of the 18 boys now in the Trade and Industry Cooperative Work Study Program, two were Negro.

Dr. Rooks asked for more explicit programs to draw Negro pupils into vocational courses like Trade and Industry.

Mrs. Inez Aldridge challenged the domestic science offerings at P.H.S. as too closely oriented to food and clothing. "Negro girls are tired of working in kitchens," she told the board. She asked for home economics courses in child guidance, comparison shopping and family life education.

One of the panel speakers, Simon Marcson, said that Mercer County would shortly have a Superintendent of Vocational Education. He suggested that different county high schools might specialize in different areas of study — like electronics, for example. He said he hoped P.H.S. could establish co-operation with Mercer Community College in vocational subjects.

Benjamin Shimberg of Educational Testing Service, also on the panel, urged a sound program of basic education for all children. Technology is changing so rapidly, he warned, that rigid, old style vocational education is dated. "If you focus too strongly on vocational education you may find that a kid ends up in a dead-end job with no chance to go back to school and learn another," he said.

WHAT WILL I TELL MY HUSBAND? That thought, among others, must have been going through Mrs. Maria Liu's mind after her car jumped a small stone wall shortly before noon Tuesday and landed in the entrance walk of the home of Dr. William Z. Abrams, 35 University Place. Ptl. Anthony Ranfone reported that Mrs. Liu, of 32 Western Way, had reached over to close her right car door as she was exiting from the parking lot across from the University Store. As she did so, her foot slipped off the brake and hit the accelerator. Mr. Liu, an assistant professor at Princeton University, arrived on the scene a few minutes later. (Staff Photo)

THREE YOUTHS HURT

When Car Hits Pole. Three Princeton area youths were injured late Friday night when the car in which they were riding went out of control on a curve on lower Alexander Street and struck a pole.

Admitted to Princeton Hospital were the driver, Bruce A. Hill, 17, of Trenton, and William C. Barr, 18, of Hunt Farm, Mercer Road. Craig Yanta, 18, of Colonial Lake Drive, Lawrence Township, was treated for two fractured ribs and released.

Barr, the owner of the car, received a fractured jaw, a 4-inch laceration of the scalp and several fractured teeth. Hill sustained a badly fractured left wrist and arm.

Hill told Township police that he was driving about 45 miles per hour when he saw the curve and the next thing he knew he had collided with the pole. His car left the road near the new cutoff loop on lower Alexander and hit a post of a split rail fence before ramming the pole. The entire front end and windshield of their 1962 Corvair was damaged.

Cyclist, 8 Struck. An eight-year-old boy riding a bicycle was struck by a car late Thursday afternoon on Linden Lane.

William F. Machle, son of Dr. and Mrs. Willard Machle of 4 Evelyn Place, was taken by the First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Hospital where he was admitted for treatment of a fractured leg.

The driver, Frank Petrone, 21, 153 Linden Lane, told Borough Pfl. Gerald Patterson that he was driving south on Linden toward Nassau Street when the youth came out of a private drive at 16 Linden into his path. He braked as soon as possible, he said, but not in time to prevent his right fender from knocking the youth to the roadway. Police made no charges.

Two Are Fined. In traffic court Monday, Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined two Princeton area motorists $15 each.

Paul C. Wheller, 25, 43 Humbert Street, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving. Mrs. Elizabeth H. Graydon, 38, 26 Station Road, Cranbury, pleaded not guilty to a stop sign infraction.

THEFT REPORT

Two Purses Stolen. Amidst he vandalism last week, Borough police reported these thefts.

Mrs. Sherley Morgan, 145 Hedge Road, reported the theft Friday of her pocketbook from a front hall sofa. It was found in a rear yard by a gardener two houses away the next day with its cash — about $15 — missing.

Mrs. Dorothy Couchman listed the theft or her purse last week from her office, 20 Nassau Street, which she had left briefly to go on an errand. It was recovered at 6 the next morning in Pietrinferno's Luncheonette on Nassau Street with its $12 missing.

A money bag containing $23 in coins and a four-barrel .22 pistol, a collector's item valued at $35, were taken from

Are You 14-21 Yeors Old? Sign Up Sunday for Job Fete!

Princeton residents between the ages of 14 and 21 who would like to job-hunt through the Job Fete, should sign up this Sunday between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. at the Princeton Youth Center.

College students who won't be in town can apply by mail. A parent or friend can obtain an application blank for them on Sunday, at the Center, or weekdays at the Y.W.C.A.

Four job-orientation training sessions will be held Sundays from 3-5. On Sunday, April 28, the session will be held at the Youth Center. On Sundays, May 5, 12 and 19, at the Y.W.C.A. The Fete will be held at the "Y" Saturday, May 25.

At these sessions, there will be instruction in filling out applications, obtaining working papers, interview technique, conduct on the job, office and telephone manners, attitudes toward supervisors and fellow employees.

Young men and women who complete the training will have priority for placement through the Job Fete.

Men and women with office background, personnel experience and interest in young people, are needed to serve as volunteer helpers at these training sessions.

Anyone who wishes to volunteer may register with Mrs. Heath Licklider at the Y.W.C.A., 924-4825.

Teen-agers in Borough, Township and West Windsor may be employed by municipal governments this summer as part of the Job Fete program.

The "Job Fete" will be held Saturday, May 25 at the YMCA by the John Witherspoon Civic Association and the YWCA. The Rev. Harold Thomas of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church and the Rev. James Whittemore, rector of Trinity, are co-chairmen.

Joseph R. Nini, Administrator of Princeton Township, has been appointed chairman of a committee to work on town jobs for teens. He will be joined by Borough Administrator Robert F. Mooney and West Windsor's clerk, Lewis Chamberlain.

In the Borough, Mr. Mooney said that he and Engineer Thomas Cawley may be able to fill three or four summer teen positions. The young employees might be hired to do maintenance work in playgrounds or parks, Mr. Mooney said.

Mr. Nini said he has asked Township Engineer Frank Quinby and Recreation Director Donald Barr to hold off on summer hiring until the summer job situation can be examined.

Mr. Nini suggested that much of the Township's "Open Space" land might be cleared by crews of summer teenagers.

Age presents a problem. The age-bracket concerned is 14-21, and municipal officials point out that boys have to be at least 18 to work heavy machinery.

A task force has been appointed to do research on various problems involved in youth employment. Kenneth Michael, principal of Princeton High School is chairman, and members are Mrs. Gladys Taylor, Mrs. Kathy Edwards, Wilbur Williamson, Saul Fox and William Kight.

Jack Yeoman vice president of the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, is interviewing small businesses and stores in Princeton to find out the summer teen job situation.

"I know from my experience that it has become increasingly difficult to find employees and yet we have right here in our own community literally hundreds of our young people who need jobs," writes Mr. Yeoman in a letter to Chamber members.

"Won't you please inventory your own needs for employees and advise me as soon as possible?" Mr. Yeoman asks.

Stores and business firms that do not belong to the Chamber are equally welcome as Job Fete employers, Mr. Yeoman emphasizes.

The mayors of Borough, Township and West Windsor have signed a letter to large firms in the area asking their cooperation in summer jobs for young people.

the Country Farms Store Friday night.

Police said a six-inch pane in the front door near the lock had been broken to gain entry. The store is located at 205 Witherspoon Street.

Earlier in the week, a $100 portable typewriter and set of keys were taken from the Princeton Housing Authority office at 50 Clay Street. The entry — through a broken window on the north eside of the building — was reported by a maintenance man.

Four spoke wheel covers worth $200 were reported stolen from his car last week by Daniel Webb of 25 Madison Street. He told police that his 1966 Mustang had been parked in the Park Place lot. The theft took place between 1 and 2:30 p.m.

MAYOR MEETS AGENT

On Discrimination. Mayor Henry S. Patterson met last Thursday with Mrs. Jenny Cortese, Princeton real estate agent, to discuss accusations of discrimination made against Mrs. Cortese at a PAHR meeting last week.

Mayor Patterson said Mrs. Cortese suggested that he meet with all Princeton realtors to discuss discrimination, and he announced that Mrs. Bryce Thompson, currently president of the realtors' group, is making arrangements for such a meeting to be held shortly.

"We cannot have discrimination in Princeton," the mayor said at his press conference. "We impressed upon Mrs. Cortese the importance of cooperation."

Mayor Patterson told the press that he and Council are talking about a Human Rights Commission for Princeton, examining ways in which a commission might work with existing organizations and considering the possibility of appointing a group to define more closely what kind of commission people want.

MUSIC In Princeton

GLEE CLUBS TO SING

With Chamber Orchestra. The glee clubs of Princeton University and Goucher College will join the Princeton Chamber Orchestra to present works by Haydn and Mozart on Sunday, April 28, at 3 p.m. in Alexander Hall.

Walter Nollner, professor of music at Princeton, will conduct. The glee clubs will sing Haydn's Missa in Angustiis, more frequently known as the "Nelson" Mass, and Mozart's Vesperae de Dominica composed in 1799.

Soloists will be Lois Laverty, soprano; Laura Roach, alto; Bruce Campbell, tenor and William Martin, bass.

Haydn's title, "Missa in Angustiis" can be translated as "Mass in a time of anxiety," observes Nicholas Harsanyi, director of the Chamber Orchestra. The "Nelson" subtitle derives from the presentation of the Mass in honor of Lord Nelson in 1800.

The publishers of the Mass added trumpet and timpani parts. In addition, they included many of the errors in the faculty copy with which they were working.

The first edition of Haydn's original manuscript was not published until 1963, and is this authentic, "clean" edition that will be presented in Princeton.

Mozart wrote two settings of the Catholic Sunday Vespers. The one he composed in 1870 is the better known of the two. It is the 1779 setting, rarely performed, that will be given here in concert.

Tickets for the performance are available through Mrs. J. Robert Hillier, president of the Princeton Gnucher College Alumnae; the Princeton University Club or the Princeton Chamber Orchestra office at 20 Nassau, 924 6090.

FINAL CONCERT FRIDAY

By Nassau Society. The Nassau Serenade and Devertimento Society will present its final concert of the semester, featuring works by Mozart and Spohr and three short songs by Gerald Warfield, a third year graduate student in the Princeton University music department. The event is scheduled for 8:30 Friday in the Woolworth Center of Musical Studies.

Rufus Hallmark, a first year graduate student will sing the songs by Mr. Warfield, who is the recent winner of a statewide composition contest. Also on the program will be Spohr's "Notturno" for Turkish Band, Op. 34, and Mozart's "Sere made in B Flat."

David Steinbrook, instructor in the music department, will conduct. The public is invited without charge.

MUSIC FOR EASTER

At Trinity Church. Easter music dramas drawn from the music and literature of medieval times, will be presented in Trinity Church at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Tuesday, April 30.

McCarter Theatre and Trinity Parish are sponsors of the presentation, and tickets may be purchased at the McCarter box office.

Professional English musicians and the men and boys' choir of Trinity will join in presenting the three dramas. The director is E. Martin Browne, scholar of the medieval world and specialist in liturgical drama.

Mr. Browne staged the first productions of all the plays of T.S. Eliot. Those Eliot plays — "Murder in the Cathedral," "The Cocktail Party" and "The Confidential Clerk" were produced in New York under Mr. Browne's direction.

The three dramas to be given in Trinity have been presented in England at Coventry Cathedrals and the Festivals at York and Camden.

In this country, the company will perform at the Washington Cathedral, at Fordham University and St. Louis University, as well as at Trinity.

SCHUTZ PROGRAM SET

For Musical Amateurs. The Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs will meet Sunday at the Woolworth Center of Musical Studies on the Princeton University campus, for a program of Schutz conducted by Mrs. Barbara Connolly Lewis.

The public is invited to attend and listen or participate. Arrangements for music and refreshments may be made through Mrs. M. B. Gottlieb, 921 7214.

JOINT CONCERT PLANNED

By Princeton, Bryn Mawr. The Princeton University Chapel Choir and the Bryn Mawr College Choir will join forces Sunday for the 37th Annual Milbank Memorial Concert, to be held at 3:30 p.m. in the University Chapel.

Soloists include Shirley Emmons, soprano, Joan Caplan, mezzo, William McGrath, tenor, John Alger, James Glasser and David Lindsay, basses, and James Hopkins, organ.

The concert is sponsored each spring as a memorial to Albert Goodsell Milbank and Elizabeth Milbank Anderson.

At Spring Concert. The Spring Concert of the Princeton Choral Group will be held at 2 p.m., Sunday, at the YMCA, Avalon Place. Tickets for the program are available at the YMCA.

The program will be directed by James Palmer, Professor of Music at Trenton College. Pieces will include Madrigals, show tunes, two Hindemith songs and more serious work by Schubert and Beethoven. Three guest soloists and a chamber orchestra will be featured.

"I Saw Wrinkles Vanish or Diminish in 2 Weeks"

NEW YORK (Special)—"Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished . . . even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement." This dramatic report on the ingredients in Genava was made by a noted physician, specializing in dermatology, after tests made on a selected group of women. He now these results with his own eyes.

With this substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—not older and older.

The physician also commented, "The small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance."

These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Developed by the trustworthy Nina laboratory, Genava is designed to be used under make-up and as a night cream. It is absorbed instantly. In two weeks time wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. That is the promise now made possible by Genava. Skin will become more translucent, younger-looking. Now available in selected stores—1.05 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00.

. . . With Love

Five young men and women in classic hippie clothing — tight jeans, beads, boots and long hair— moved quietly through the Easter dawn to the pond at the Institute for Advanced Study and carefully hid about 250 decorated Easter eggs for Institute children to find.

After clustering the eggs in the grassy meadow around the pond and under the scattered trees, they stopped at a few homes, invited the children to come, and then sat on the lawn to watch.

Parents report that the eggs, standard hard-boiled hens eggs, were exquisitely decorated and obviously done with care. All five young artists come from families who are now, or once were, associated with the Institute.

Tax Relief?

Home-owners with modest incomes sometimes hesitate to fix up their houses because they can't afford the tax increase that comes with an upgraded home.

Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson said this week that he has asked Gordon Griffin, the municipal attorney, to see what kind of tax-break ordinance can be worked out for lower income property owners.

Such ordinances exist in other New Jersey communities, according to Councilman Robert M. Hendry, who carries the housing portfolio. Mr. Hendry would also like to see Princeton's lending institutions adopt low interest policies for these home-owners.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED

For Alexander Road. Nichols Laboratory, a newly formed research organization engaged in the development of medical products, will move to a site on Alexander Road just south of Little Bear Brook in West Windsor Township. The firm is presently occupying temporary quarters in Edison.

Dr. Joseph Nichols, 28 Longview Drive, director of the company, broke ground for the building on Monday, accompanied by Malcolm Rossel, mayor of West Windsor. Mr. Nichols was former director of research at Ethicon, Inc. in Somerville. J. Robert Hillier has designed the structure, which will be built by the Norko Corporation.

NEW LOCK DEVELOPED

By Straube Industries. Straube Manufacturing Co., Waynesboro, Pa., a division of Straube Industries, One Palmer Square, has developed a push button lock for use on doors.

Instead of a key hole there is a circular dial with nine push buttons in the center of the door knob. The door can be opened only after the correct combination of buttons has been pushed. The combination can be changed at any time.

Locks are also available with owner plus master combination for doors in apartments or office buildings. When the tenant moves, there is no need to change the lock, just the combination. Straube, which won a "Bright Idea" award from Mechanix Illustrated for the lock has designed padlocks, ignition and high security locks with push-buttons also.

DIRECTOR NAMED

At Western Electric. Edwin G. Baldwin, 4 Weidel Drive, Pennington, has been named Applied Mathematics and Control Systems Director at Western Electric's Engineering Research Center on Carter Road, Hopewell Township. He succeeds James F. Schouweiler, who has been named engineering manager of ERC's Central Region of the Service Division in Rolling Meadows, Ill.

Formerly manager of Defense Activities' Military Systems Engineering at the firm's Burlington, N.C. plant, Mr. Baldwin joined Bell Telephone Laboratories in Whippany in 1948. He contributed to the development and design of various computerized systems for government projects, including the Titan 1 guidance system.

Mr. Baldwin is a graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, where he received both his bachelor's and master of science degrees. He joined Western Electric in 1964, when he became manager of the Burlington plant.

FIRM FORMED HERE

To Aid Printing Industry. Printing Industry Computer Associates, a newly-formed consulting firm to serve the printing and publishing industry, has opened offices at 228 Alexander Street.

The firm, whose initials just happen to spell "pica", the standard unit of measurement used by printers, bridges the gap between the printing and publishing industry and the computer manufacturers, according to its president, Max Biller.

"The world of the printed page is now irreversibly tied to the world of computers," Mr. Biller explained, "and printers, not just in this country but throughout the world, are just now beginning to develop an appreciation for just how true this is. In fact, we are already at the stage where the devices and systems involved in computerized photocomposition are so complex that problems of a new dimension have evolved to face the printer."

P.I.C.A. is ready to aid the printer in selecting the computer services best suited to his particular needs. For example, Paul Grieco, vice president of the company, pointed out that "it cannot be categorically assumed that a client's operation actually lends itself to a computerized system, and in such cases it might be best for the small printer to purchase computer services from a central facility."

The full system analysis performed by the firm will include recommending computers in all phases of the business operation: order-entry, estimating systems, production and scheduling control, sales analysis, inventory control and payroll.

P.I.C.A. is also ready to help firms in the publishing industry. Magazine and newspaper publishers, the firm maintains, cannot afford to overlook the many key applications for computerized systems, which have already presented themselves.

WTOA WINS AWARD

For FM News Program. A check for $500 and a bronze plaque symbolizing the "Major" Armstrong annual award for the outstanding FM news program in the country last year has been won by radio station WTOA FM for its series, "The Greater Trenton Stereo Hour."

Given for "excellence and originality in creating and presenting superior FM programs," the award is named for the late "Major" Armstrong, whose inventions in the wide band FM system launched the FM industry. Herbert W. Hobler, president of Nassau Broadcasting Company, which owns WTOA, accepted the award presented during the National Association of FM Broadcasters' convention.

RIOT CALLS ANSWERED

By Princeton Groups. Two Princeton units, the Fire Department and Youth Associates, answered calls for help from Trenton during last week's rioting.

Borough Fire Commissioner Robert Hendry sent a truck from the Hook & Ladder Company and a pumper from Mercer Engine No. 3 at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday at Trenton's request. The trucks remained on standby duty in Trenton, one of them answering an alarm that turned out to be false.

The hook & ladder was released at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday morning and the pumper at 2:45 a.m. The eight firemen on duty were William Hussey, Richard Wood, Thomas Johnson, William Corcoran, Alistair Stewart, George Rollings, George Reed and John Donaldson.

Princeton's five companies had agreed some time ago to go to Trenton's aid on a fire stand-by basis in the event of a riot. Mayor Henry S. Patterson and Fire Commissioner Hendry have sent each man a letter of appreciation.

Youth Leaders. Johnny Porter's pool hall on Perry Street near the Freeway to Philadelphia became headquarters for the young staff members of Youth Associates, 20 Nassau Street, who worked all through the riotous night on a "buddy system" of Negro-white teams.

A staff member, Kenny Hill, was with 18-year-old Harlan B. Joseph at the time he was shot, according to the Rev. Rogers Carrington, Youth Associates' director. Another staff member, Mrs. Barry Peterson of the Princeton-Kingston Road, hurried to the hospital when she heard of the shooting and was with Joseph's mother when she was told her son had died.

The Rev. Don O'Dell, a recent graduate of Princeton Seminary who heads the organization's staff of four in Trenton, was one of the five clergymen who started the buddy system in Trenton. Also on hand was "Porky" Wooten, a United Progress Inc. worker at the North Trenton Civic Center who is a volunteer on weekends at the Princeton Youth Center, and the Rev. Mr. Carrington, called out of the Borough mayor's meeting at Princeton High School.

Youth Associates' staff members, who had received police identification letters just the day before, were able to move through the police barricades. They worked into the early hours taking Negro teenagers home.

The riot caught the buddy system in its formative stage, according to Mr. Carrington. About 100 were coordinated early Wednesday morning by Gregory Farrell of Princeton, former UPI head now working on the state level, together with Youth Associates and UPI staff. The goal is 3-5,000 buddies. Negro and white Wednesday's units went out a long designated streets to combat false rumors and to give the excited residents "somebody to talk to."

The youth leaders brough several of the Negro teenager they have been working with for the past six months to their weekly meeting on Sunday. One of the boys brought the college-trained leaders up short. "What you're talking about is nowhere, man. Youth Associates is caring and sharing!"

"We are going to have to risk enough to get into the ball game or Princeton is going to wonder, too late, 'what happened'?" Mr. Carrington said Friday. "Princeton Negro kids were baiting a riot one night last summer, pulling hooks off the shelf at the A & S on Nassau near Palmer Square. Herb McQuinn came up on them and stopped it.

"It has to be caring and sharing — like the early Christian community. It's the whole theology of hospitality."

"THOSE WERE OUR BOYS"

CWU Seeks Camp Fuuds. Two Princeton teenagers were cited by Borough police the other week for their assistance in a street fight near the Youth Center.

"Those were our boys," a delighted lady in white gloves reported to Town Topics. Mrs. Harry Hill of Trinity Church has been chairman of the Church Women United's camping fund since it began in 1960. "Since their names were in the paper, I think I'm free to say that the United Church Women sent them to camp several summers ago."

Last year, UCW raised $1,300 ("but we could have used $2,000") paying full and part tuition at day and over-night camps for 24 community children.

This year, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. David Taylor of Witherspoon, as co-chairmen, are heading a drive for a larger camping fund. "Can there be anything better than sending children away to camp when we expect a "hot" summer and there's so much disturbance among youth?" Mrs. Hill asks.

"I feel that we've been able to do, it's a drop in the bucket. There are many who might go — but who are not asking. It's pride, perhaps, or unawareness of the CWU support."

THE MENORAH AND CROSS symbolize the inter-faith purpose of the Mrs. Sherley W. Morgan Chapel at Princeton Hospital which will be dedicated this Sunday. Above, Chaplain C. George Fitzgerald prepares for a Sunday vesper service.

The youngsters are sent to the YW and YMCA day camps, to Girl Scout camps, the Princeton University camp near Blairstown, to a Y camp near Blairstown. "We try to divide evenly between boys and girls," Mrs. Hill says, "but the greatest thoing we can do is send a boy to the YMCA Ranger camp. It's a two-week day camp where the boys work with a trained woodsman. If they do well, they get a chance to go on a 10-day trip.

The Rangers, ages 10 to 16, have explored Nova Scotia, Maine, the Adirondacks, Michigan and a trip to Florida is planned for this summer. They meet together all winter, developing the friendship started in camp and working on fund-raising projects for camp.

"A trip costs $100-up," Mrs. Hill says. "We make a great effort to help. Often a boy gives some money, his family and the CWU put up the rest. I don't think there's anything in Princeton that's more important where this age group is concerned than the Ranger camp. Unfortunately it's not for girls, although there are two very good camps for girls."

Campers are recommended by the Y, by social workers of the Borough and Township and often by individuals. A Princeton child was sent to the full five weeks of the Mercer County Retarded Children's Assn. camp by a pooling of funds, including $50 from the CWU.

One child thought to be retarded, was sent to the camp run by Princeton University students on a teacher's conviction that the child was deeply troubled. "We received a letter that he was one of the very best boys in his camp. The only trouble was that he wasn't old enough to assume leadership although he showed the capability."

The United Church Women raise the money for camp "scholarships" through the gifts of the women's groups of the 11 churches involved, through gifts from such Princeton groups as the Womens Club and the Elizabeth Taylor Byrd Fund. Individual gifts are welcomed.

Round-up date for the camp fund is May 3, when the CWU will meet for its May luncheon at the YW-YMCA. Mrs. Hill adds, "It has done a wonderful thing to unite the women of the churches. It has made an enormous difference in the friendship and interchange between the women.

TWO SERVICES PLANNED

For New Lutheran Church. Prince of Peace Lutheran mission becomes formally organized as a church of the Lutheran Church in America this Sunday at services at 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Rev. John C. Pfisterer, mission developer, will be the liturgist at the morning service, to be held in Maurice Hawk School. The sermon will be given by the Rev. Thomas J. Weber, regional secretary of the LCA Board of American Missions.

Formal reception of members will be given at the 4 p.m. service by the Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Knudten, president of the New Jersey Synod. He will recognize the organization of the congregation and the church council will be installed.

The Rev. Robert C. Brower of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Hightstown, will be liturgist. Dr. Knudten is the preacher.

TO DEDICATE CHAPEL

At Princeton Hospital. An inter-faith chapel of contemporary design will be dedicated at 2 this Sunday at Princeton Hospital. The chapel is named in honor of Mrs. Sherley W. Morgan of Hodge Road, donor of the funds for its construction and furnishing. She was assisted by her husband, director emeritus of the Princeton University school of architecture.

Chaplain C. George Fitzgerald will lead the dedication service. Dr. Seward Hiltner of Princeton Seminary will speak on the topic, "The Role of Religion in Healing." Dr. Miltner, a pioneer in the exploration of the relationship between religion and healing, is professor of theology and personality at the seminary, a visiting professor at Princeton University and consultant in religion and psychiatry at the Menninger Foundation.

Assisting Chaplain Fitzgerald in the dedication service will be the president of the Princeton Pastors' Association, the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer of Calvary Baptist Church; Rabbi Everett Gendler of Princeton Jewish Center, Dean Ernest Gordon of Princeton University Chapel; Msgr. Edward C. Henry of St. Paul's Catholic Church and the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel of First Presbyterian Church.

George W. Conover, president of the board of trustees, will represent the hospital. The Rev. E. Rugby Auer, vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church, will give the benediction. The organist is James Clark of Westminster Choir College.

Organ Donated. The chapel is equipped with a double keyboard electronic Allen organ, the gift of Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., president of Westminster Choir College. The organ and 25 inscribed copies of the Pilgrim Hymnal were donated as a memorial to his parents.

Focal point of the compact, 25 seat chapel is the arrangement of five panels of multi-colored, faceted glass behind a white marble communion table altar. The panels conceal a double window through which daylight enters to bring the deep colors to life. Two different lighting arrangements provide for additional illumination.

The chapel is located on the second floor of the hospital main lobby in the new J-Building. Adjoining is the chaplain's office and a working area for visiting clergy. Nearby is a solarium and lounge for patients and their visitors.

Planning began during the construction of the new wing, as Mrs. Morgan sought the assistance of interested clergymen and laymen. The Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel was the first chairman. He represented First Presbyterian Church and the Princeton Pastors' Association, which sponsors the hospital chaplaincy program. The Rev. E. Rugby Auer, vicar of Trinity Episcopal Church is the present chairman.

Also on the planning committee were Samuel Frothingham of the hospital trustees, Leslie L. Vivian Jr. of Princeton University, member-at-large; Dr. Marvin R. Blumenthal of the hospital medical and dental staff; the Rev. Paul D. Burks of Montgomery Methodist Church, Belle Mead; the Rev. Carl Wolf of First Presbyterian Church, Cranbury, the Rev. Kenneth S. Dannenhauer of Calvary Baptist. The hospital was also represented by Mr. Conover, John Kauffman, administrator, and Chaplain Fitzgerald.

Sunday vesper services have been held in the chapel since the first Sunday in March. Recent special rites included two memorials to Martin Luther King and a Good Friday observance. The order of prayer at the vesper service incorporates "as many prayers of different faiths as possible," according to Chaplain Fitzgerald.

Msgr Henry of St. Paul's has announced that a priest of the parish will celebrate mass in the chapel "at least once a month." Rabbi Gendler of the Princeton Jewish Center said last week, "We haven't developed a definite plan, but it is possible we will work out

TIGERS LOSE ANOTHER

Ball Team Now 4-9, A 7-2 loss to Rutgers Tuesday was the ninth defeat in 13 games this season for Princeton's baseball team. The Tigers fell behind, 4-0, as early as the second inning, narrowed the gap briefly to 4-2 but never threatened seriously to break out of their lengthening losing streak.

Senior Steve Cushmore took the setback, giving up all the Scarlet runs and eight of the ten hits. Sophomore Geoff Petrie worked the last three innings and picked up six strikeouts.

Bunching five of its eight hits in the fourth inning, Princeton scored twice but its weak offense continues unabated. Winning pitcher Jim Jackson's bases-loaded triple gave him more runs batted in than the entire Tiger team could manage.

PHS ROUTED, 17-7

By Hamilton Nine. In a battle of two unbeaten teams here Tuesday afternoon, Hamilton High School (5-0) pounded four Princeton High School pitchers for 19 hits and 17 runs to win a loosely played contest, 17-7. The loss was the Little Tiger's first in four outings.

The game was called after six innings, two hours and forty minutes after it started, because of darkness. Hamilton had broken up a 6-6 tie in the fifth when it scored seven runs on four hits, sending up 12 men in the frame. Until then, PHS coach Harry Zoll had called "an interesting game."

Tom Graham, the team's regular second basemen started his first game on mound for PHS. He gave up two runs in the first and then when the next three Hamilton batters ...gled in the second for two more runs, Zoll called on senior Jeff Shinko. It was Shinko's first appearance on the mound as well. His first pitch ...ulted in a double play.

Hamilton, however, went on to rap three more singles in the inning for a 5-0 lead. PHS came back with four runs in the same inning.

After Bob Salek and Nick Ryan had gotten on by errors, Dave Drake doubled home one run. Ryan scored on a sacrifice fly by Thom Yoder and then Nick Arcaro homered down the right field line, sending Drake home ahead of him.

Other Sports on Pages 41-44

After Hamilton had scored a single run in the fourth, PHS tied it up with two runs when, with the bases loaded, Hamilton third baseman Al Grubbs threw wildly to first fielding Bill Walstad's hot smash. Shinkos and Yoder scored on the play, but Tom Butterfoss was out trying to reach third.

The seven-run fifth, which turned the game around, started with Shinkos walking two and hitting a batter to load them up. Zoll motioned in Chris Haring, a southpaw who had pitched well against Lawrenceville.

Outfielder Joe Schneid lined Haring's first pitch into center for two runs. It was Schneid's fourth straight single. Later a three-run double made it 11-6.

In the last inning, Zoll sent Nick Arcaro into pitch. Like Graham and Shinkos before him, Arcaro was making his first appearance as a pitcher. He got his first man swinging, but walks and errors accounted for four more runs. By this time, PHS' future in the game was as dim as the fading afternoon light and Zoll said, "Let's go home. Sometimes it's good to retreat and fight another day."

Princeton collected eight hits off Hornet hurler Bob Bay, three by Yoder.

STICKMEN TOP PLEBES

In Overtime, 13-10. The New Jersey Lacrosse Club won its third straight Saturday when it defeated the Army Plebes at West Point in overtime, 13-10. The Princeton-based New Jersey Club had tied the game at 10-all with less than a minute to go.

Dave Leete and Dick Norwalk tallied three goals each for the victors. Karl Pettit and Phil Allen each contributed a pair of goals and one assist, while Tom Menihan scored twice. John Howe's single tally came during the 10-minute overtime.

The New Jersey Club will play the Glen Burnie Lacrosse Club on Sunday. The contest will be held near Baltimore.

Hun School Wins. In its first lacrosse contest of the season, The Hun School trounced Rutgers Prep, 11-1, on the loser's field in New Brunswick.

Chip Hosford and Nat Williams led Hun with three goals apiece. The game was the opener for both schools.

something on Fridays, particularly with sunset coming later.

The chapel is open for meditation to all faiths. All clergy of the area may schedule special services intrinsic to their tradition, for the benefit of affiliated Princeton Hospital patients, guests and personnel.

NEW CLASSES FORM

Arthur Holland To Speak. Two new classes for adults begin this Sunday at First Presbyterian Church which focus on contemporary issues.

Arthur J. Holland, former mayor of Trenton, will address the first session of the class, "The Crisis in the Cities," meeting at 10:10 a.m. in the conference room. The Rev. Dr. Robert G. Andrus is the convenor.

"Vietnam — The Christian — The Gospel — the Church' is the title of the study group that will meet at the same time in the chapel with Elder Theodore M. Vial. The group will attempt to work out some Christian guidelines on Vietnam.

Mr. Holland has been since July 1966 consultant to the N. J. Department of Housing and Urban Development, the National Institute of Public Affairs and the Brookings Institute. He teaches political science at University College, the evening division of Rutgers.

During his seven years as mayor of Trenton, the city received the National Municipal League and Look Magazine "All-America City Award," based upon citizens' participation in public affairs. He is a graduate of Rutgers with a degree in social studies and holds a master's degree in public administration.

CRASH PROGRAM NEEDED

By Local Churches. The Princeton Pastors' Association at its hastily-called meeting on the morning after Martin Luther King's assassination, discussed at length civil rights in Princeton, according to the Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer, president.

"We support all studies of the report by President's Commission on Civil Disobedience as one practical way of looking at our national life," he said.

"Last week, each of the denominations related to the National Council of Churches sent to all local congregation for a crash program of education between now and summer on urban needs. Several denominations here have received study materials: Calvary Baptist Church, First, St. Andrew's and Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Churches. My guess is that these are going to be taken seriously."

The group is greatly concerned about pending civil rights legislation. "We encourage citizens to contact legislators about pending legislation."

CIRCLE MEETING SET

By Dutch Neck Women. Circle meetings of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church, Dutch Neck will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, April 24 and 25. The April study, "Flashes of Light in the Darkness," is based upon the Book of Mark.

There will be a discussion of "Barriers to Understanding" at the circle meetings. Circle 1 meets at 10 a.m. Wednesday, with Mrs. Howard Kendall as hostess and Mrs. Arthur Everett as co-hostess.

Circle 2 meets at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Moebius, with Mrs. Oliver Hillpot as co-hostess. Circle 3 will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday with Mrs. Keohoe as hostess, and Mrs. Michael Greschak as co-hostess.

An all-day and evening sewing session will be held by the women on Tuesday, April 30. Interested women will be welcome. Those with portable sewing machines are requested to bring them.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO MEET

For Fellowship Program. Miss Ruth Samsel, career planning coordinator of Middlesex County College, will address the Women's Fellowship of Princeton Baptist Church of Penns Neck at 8 p.m. this Thursday in the Christian education building, Washington Road.

Miss Samsel will discuss "The Role of the Community College." Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Ruth Malich and Mrs. Erma Mertz. The meeting is open to the public.

BULLETIN NOTES

"Jews of Silence" is the topic of the sermon-meditation to be given by Rabbi Everett Gendler at 8:15 p.m. this Friday at the Princeton Jewish Center, marking the last night of Passover. The service will commemorate the six million victims of the Nazis and renew awareness of the oppression of Jews in the Soviet Union. There will be readings from modern Hebrew, Yiddish and Jewish poets and excerpts from Elie Wiesel's writing about Soviet Jews. The Yizkor (memorial) service will be held at 10 a.m. this Saturday.

A service of JOY! with music and movement will be held at 11 this Sunday in Calvary Baptist Church. Miss Penny Clark, a senior at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will introduce the congregation to movement in worship. Larry E. Trettin, Princeton Seminary senior and director of the Princeton Pastors' Association Junior Camp last summer, will assist in the music.

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features.
As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.
SAAB
You can drive it like a big car.

Beyond the Fringe . . . Publications on the left and right of midstream American opinion will be on a table at the Princeton Public Library for one week of public inspection starting next Monday.

The opinion spectrum in the 85 publications ranges from "The Worker" (Communist) to "Stormtrooper" (Nazi). There is a small newsletter published by a militant Negro rightist, and a magazine devoted to articles on homosexuality. There are samples from the "underground press" and copies of such relatively staid publications as "Ramparts," "Evergreen Review" and "Paris Review."

Robert Staples, librarian and Miss Martha Powers of the library's staff, assembled the magazines, newsweeklies, pamphlets and newsletters from a catalogue called "From Radical Left to Extreme Right."

This catalogue will be on the table, too, and visitors may use it to look up circulation figures and other data for any publication that interests them.

"We added up the circulation for all 85 magazines and we find that the total is about 1.5 million," estimates Miss Powers.

"Library Week." The collection is part of the Princeton Public Library's observance of National Library Week, and the library staff will probably decide to subscribe to some of the publications in the group.

"Ramparts" is already a library regular, and Miss Powers says the library plans to add "American Opinion," the magazine edited and published by Robert Welch of the John Birch Society.

Visitors will probably want to see the copy of a new right-wing magazine called "The Westwood Village Square." This is the magazine, described in recent New York Times story, that has a perfectly square format.

It is slick and expensive looking with considerably more elan and flair than its brothers on the left-wing side. Many of these — "The Worker" is one — have that drab, low budget look.

Right. Other right side publications in the group are the Dan Smoot Report, out of Dallas, and "Human Events, Inc." (This newspaper, by the way, has about twice the circulation of Mr. Welch's "American Opinion," according to the catalogue.)

Then there's "The Truth About Communism," which arrived, in answer to the library's request for a sample copy, in a trim loose-leaf binder with information about study supplements for use in schools. The "Christian Anti-Communism Crusade" is another. And "Modern Age" is a scholarly quarterly of right-wing views.

Left. On the left side, there is "The Minority of One," The International Socialist Review" and a whole package of "underground press" newspapers like "The Berkeley Barb," "The East Village Other" (an interview with Jackie Kennedy in this one), "The San Francisco Oracle" and the "New York Free Press."

Pacifist views are represented by "Fellowship," from the Fellowship of Reconciliation; the newsletter of the Friends Committee on National Legislation; "News Notes" from the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors and "SANE World."

The American Civil Liberties Union's "Civil Liberties" will be on the table and so will "Church and State," published by the Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State.

Two Sides. That right-wing Negro publication is WIRE (circ. 3,850), published by a Negro in Buffalo, New York. Like many on the fringe, this seems to be a one man publication, perhaps ground out by hand on a mimeograph.

On the other side of Negro question is "Freedomways," described as "a quarterly review of the Negro Freedom Movement."

The homosexual magazine is "Tangents," out of Hollywood. Like many in the library's collection, it is not for sale on most newsstands, and is available only through subscription.

Sharp, anti-establishment satire is the way of "The Realist." It was recommended by the man who writes reviews for the "Library Journal" so Mr. Staples included a copy in the group.

Mr. Staples does not say whether or not the "Library Journal" is "fringe."

CARNIVAL PLANNED

To Raise Funds. The YMCA Ranger and Hi-Y Clubs will combine forces Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28, for a carnival and auction, to help pay for summer trip programs.

The group plans a carnival, water show, plant sale, car wash, and bake sale for Saturday, with an auction and children's movie on Sunday. Committees of boys and parents have been formed for various activities.

Abraham Seidner, chairman of the auction committee, will collect auction or carnival donations at contributors' homes, on Saturdays, April 13, 20, and 27. Sporting goods, furniture, toys, books, plants, records, paintings and other items will be gratefully accepted through the YMCA office.

Other committee chairmen include Sam Howell and Walter Sorg, general co-chairmen; Joseph Stoye and Kenneth Sternkopf, prizes; Sam Nini, booth construction; Dave Jones, clowns and supervision; Stover Hollister, ticket booths; Mrs. Doris Allen and Mrs. Billie Emmerich, bake sale; and Richard Hoisington, refreshments.

News Of The THEATRES

"PAWNBROKER" NEXT

With Rod Steiger. "The Pawnbroker," Sidney Lumet's 1964 film about a Jew who survives a Nazi concentration camp only to encounter prejudice as the operator of a Harlem pawnship, will be shown at McCarter on next Tuesday at 8.

The film is next in line in McCarter's International Film Series. It stars Rod Steiger, who won the Best Actor Award at the Berlin Festival for his performance, and an Academy Award nomination in that year.

"The Pawnbroker" was filmed in New York. Its supporting cast includes Geraldine Fitzgerald, Jaime Sanchez and Brock Peters.

THE FUNNY SIDE . . .

With Harold Lloyd. "The Freshman," Harold Lloyd's full-length feature, is a satire on college life in which Lloyd plays the archetype of the typical American Boy.

The film will be shown Monday at 8 at McCarter as part of a program, "Harold Lloyd's Funny Side of Life." The program will include several other Lloyd classics such as "Safety Last," the one in which Lloyd hangs from the hands of a clock many stories above the street.

TWO "UNDER THE GASLIGHT." Kate Litvak and Natalee Rosenthal will add a bit of Victorian swoon to the production of "Under the Gaslight," 19th-century melodrama that will be given in McCarter Theatre this Thursday to benefit the Hospital Fete.

ON STAGE, EVERYBODY!

"South Pacific" Rehearsing. The cast of thousands -- pardon, cast of 100 -- is now rehearsing for "South Pacific," the P. J. & B. musical that will open a four-performance engagement in McCarter on Thursday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m.

The 8:30 curtain will be observed for performances on Friday and Saturday and there will be a family matinee Saturday at 2:30. Tickets for all performances are now on sale at the McCarter box-office.

Residents of "the greater Princeton area," including Highstown, Cranbury, Trenton and Milltown are in the cast. So are high school students and undergraduates of Princeton University, commuters, housewives, businessmen and members of Triangle Club.

"GLASS MENAGERIE"

At "Festival." The third annual drama festival at Princeton High School will close with a production of Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," to be given Saturday, April 27, at 8:30 in the auditorium of the school.

Donald Evans, member of the English faculty and overall director of the festival, will direct a cast of students, faculty members, residents of the community and P.H.S. alumni.

"This is a total community theatre activity," Mr. Evans explains, "We are trying to give all these people a chance to work together on a project, and at the same time give the school a chance to do something different, without the problems of age limitations."

Mr. Evans added that he hopes each year, to select a play from the high school curriculum and "try to make it as close to a realistic theatre experience as we can."

Town & Gown. Georgine Hall English teacher in the Middle School and an actress with a wide range of experience in the professional theatre, will play the part of Amanda.

Jeremy Steele, senior at Princeton High will be "Tom." Young Steele has appeared in a dozen or more school plays in the three years he has been at the high school.

Mary Jane Marta and Peter Cook, both of the high school English faculty, will play "Laura" and the "gentleman caller." Both have worked in past years in community and college theatre.

On the technical side, Abraham Menasche, high school junior, will be productions manager, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Aronson, a parent in the community, and Tony Bloch, who was graduated from the high school last year. Ralph

IT'S NEW To Us

LET'S GO . . .

Fishin'! The pole at Center Sports that costs $1.75 is for little minnows who are just learning to fish, and Daddy will buy one without teasing to justify his own purchase of that $30 pole.

Center Sports, in the Shopping Center, has fishing poles in just that price range. You can fish waters that are fresh or salt, with a record catch guaranteed every time.

Reels begin at 95c and unwind to a splendid Mitchell for $39.95. (If anything happens to this reel, Mitchell will fix it free, by the way.)

Hook, line and sinker—bait, flies and tackle boxes. These boxes, $4.95 to $9.95, are fiberglas with two or three trays to keep everything neat.

Our favorite in Center Sports' bait department is a black cricket. Drop one in mommie's martini . . .

If you belong on dry land, buy Sportscraft's combination set, combining volleyball and badminton in a $10.95 package. Each game comes alone, too, of course. You can have a badminton set for $7.95 or $9.95.

If you've got a really whinging back yard, you might try boomeranging. Here's an Aussie in red plastic for $1.25, and a Sportcraft in wood for the same price. A booklet of instructions comes along: "In a strong breeze, use a heavier boomerang . . ."

PLAN YOUR OWN GARDEN: Viewing flora in their natural habitat is the best possible way to plan your own garden. Gardeners at Obat's Garden Market have planted shrubs and spring-flowering bulbs to show you the way. Everything is labeled, too.

On the tennis side, the Center Sports staff likes the Cragin-Simplex unstrung racket for $19.95. Bayard Jordan himself will string it for you under Center Sports' auspices.

Other rackets come from Wilson or Spaulding. And you can get a little beginner for $3.93.

Wear, for tennis, a Sphairis-like white pique dress, probably marked with a low turquoise belt, or a bit of pink, or maybe a scalloped neckline and hem. Dresses begin at size 8 and $17.55. Top price is $24.75.

Meanwhile, the family golfer is pondering that golf cart with the smooth-rolling English wheels ($30.95), and the Wilson golf bag to replace the old one.

Clubs begin with a starter set of two woods and five irons at $44.95 and ascend steeply from there. Burke-Worthington is a favorite company at Center Sports for golfing equipment.

The shop also likes the Golf Master. This is the back-yard companion that measures the distance and height of your drive, whether it's a slice, a hook or a nice clean one, straight down the fairway. $14.95, and guaranteed for repair by its maker.

Golf jackets are windbreakers with knit collars. Golf gloves are either sized for men and women or stretch-fabric for any size. Golf shoes are Corfam at $19.95 for men, $11.95 for women.

And Little League! Bats, balls, shoes, gloves, warm-up shirts, caps of all colors, Louisville Slugger bats . . . Where's Charlie Brown?

FOR FLOWER GIRLS

And Ladies. Flowers bloom all over the place at Landau's this spring. Nice, primrosy posies, fresh and sprightly in clear colors on clear colors — not exotic at all, but of spring.

We like them best on a collection of junior-size slacks, Bermudas and skimmers. A smiling yellow background, for example, is a field for field-flowers of all colors--we saw the print on a pair of slacks, but it comes in the shorts and skimmers, too.

And sharp white flowers against dark navy have a surprising brightness. Sizes in this collection are 5-15.

Junior dirndls have the same small, bright-eyed flowers. They bloom against yellow, pink, or blue, and the dirndls themselves have that new stuffed hemline that makes a skirt really swing. The prints have been made into smooth A-lines, too, of bonded cotton. Dirndls are $9.98, A-line, $8.98.

A wrap culotte has turquoise roses. A shortie skirt for golf has yellow, orange and green flowers. A button front culotte is a pale green print. There are even Glen plaids in soft spring browns.

Permanent press — there's a happy pair of words. Landau uses them to describe skirts in proportioned lengths, tailored in style with a bit of leather on the belt, and done in shades of faded blue, very dark brown, navy or a sailor's blue with white piping.

The Paul Butterfield mix of folk, blues, rock and jazz comes out in the Band's newest LP, "The Resurrection of Pig boy Crabshaw."

PLAYHOUSE

No Way to Treat a Lady (now playing). Rod Steiger has an actor's field day as the killer who goes in for middle aged ladies who remind him of his mother. He works up a different disguise for each slaying. His variety of accents and mannerisms is superbly carried off.

One strangling after another can get monotonous, but here they are given a certain variety as Steiger turns up as an Irish priest, a German plumber, an effeminate hairdresser and even as a "drag." The slain ladies are wonderfully individualized before they expire, through the expert performances of Ruth White, Martin Bartlett and Kim August.

Lee Remick is cast as the girl detective George Segal meets in the course of his investigations and romances. The two play extremely well together and manage to make something appealing out of a love affair that usually comes over as banal. Eileen Heckart is also something fresh and amusing in a role that could have been the stereotype Jewish mother who nags her son.

P.H.S. To Give Awards

Donald Evans, organizer and director of Festival '68 for Princeton High, and a member of the English faculty and director of the P. H.S Repertory Company, will present three special awards following the performances on Friday, April 19, of the competing one act plays.

Awards will be given to Arthur Lithgow, executive director of McCarter Theatre; Paul Hostetler, chairman of the theatre department at Temple University and Margaret Mullin-Root, actress at the Bucks County Playhouse.

The awards, in Mr. Evans' words, are "for making the Festival such a significant contribution to the world of the theatre in Princeton."

Turtles?

How many men in Princeton have been converted to the turtle-neck? How many Nehru jackets have you seen around town?

Eric Mihan Sr., owner of The English Shop, says customers buy turtle-necks to wear on weekends with sports jackets, but do not "usually" buy them to wear with tuxedoes at a party. And NEVER for business wear. Mr. Mihan shudders.

The English Shop does not have Nehru jackets and does not expect to acquire any. In fact, no Princeton men's store has them, although Mr. Mihan reports a couple of telephone inquiries.

He predicts the Nehru jacket will vanish in a year. And as for turtle-necks — ever wipe your brow on a July day on Nassau Street? Come back in the fall.

ent press has white saddle stitching against navy in a classic wrap skirt. Comes in a soft tomato red, too, a sharp yellow, black or oyster white.

Landau shows all these solid-color skirts with Lady Van Heusen's club-collared, roll-sleeve blouses. Some are paisley, some are good strong stripes, and all of them pick up the colors in the solid skirts to make a fine match. Look at a sharply striped blouse with that oyster white skirt, for example.

If you'd rather have another style, Landau has more shells than the shore. Nylons, helancas; mock turtles, jewel necks; stripes, solids and mixes.

Here's one with textured stripes (that means you can feel the striping with your finger) in pastel pink, pastel blue, navy or beige, all with white. Makers are Switch mates, Hickory House, Exmoor.

And those flowered, floppy-brim rain hats? We'll take the awning stripe, you buy the one with blue and yellow squares and we can trade back and forth.

TAKE NOTE

For Next Spring's Garden. Wander all around all four sides of Obal's Garden Market (Lower Alexander, across the canal and up the hill) and you'll see daffodils and hyacinths and tulips in bloom, planted thoughtfully last fall with you in mind, and labeled so you'll know what blooms when.

We saw flaming Emperor tulips the day we were there, and daffodils . . . ! The idea, of course, is to make notes on color, size and general date of bloom and whether it will fit into your own garden scheme, and then buy the bulbs to plant next fall.

For right now, Obal has grass-seed, fertilizers for everything from roses to holly bushes (but NOT for chickweed), and all sorts of lethal things to inhibit crab-grass, bugs and other intruders.

Ground-covers of all kinds are ready to plant, rhododendron are ready to go in if you are, and little boxes of perennials are beginning to sprout.

Inside, Obal's has those Wilkinson garden tools with the Three Musketeers flair: "Cutlass" and "Rapier" and names like that. Just prune the roses, please, without the sword-play.

We like, as a change from redwood, the big tubs in a soft natural wood banded with black metal. These are planters, of course.

What you plant in them is up to you, but don't fail to peer into the bins of lily bulbs. And look at the giant (real) amarylis hypteastrun on the counter. You can almost see the imprint of the green thumb.

ing), a Swedish picture with English sub-titles, was a sleeper at the New York Film Festival, culling rave notices from the art film critics.

In Sweden, Elvira Madigan is a leogendary 19th Century character well known through a sentimental ballad recounting her doomed love affair with an Army lieutenant named Sixten Sparre. She is a rope dancer with a circus and he deserts his wife, children and the army to run off with her Ostracized by society and unable to find work, they decide the only solution is death.

The story is simple. The performances of Pia Dengermark and Tommy Berggren are vividly alive. Bo Winderberg, the writer-director, has given the film notable sensitivity of direction, placing the lovers with stunning effect against some of the most beautiful backgrounds of nature imaginable. Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 21 threads through the film.

The True Story.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

One sentence in your account of Princeton's reaction to the assassination of Dr. King, a great American, bears reflection for the truth it bares: ". . . on Tuesday, flags hung . . . in the John-Witherspoon area. . ."

The Evils of Racism.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Recently thousands of Princetonians joined together to mourn Dr. Martin Luther King. I am sure that thousands more silently shared their grief and remorse.

In the wake of this tragedy I think it is time for the "comfortable majority" to act against the real danger that confronts us. This danger does not come from the demented rabble currently ravaging our slums. Our real danger comes from the bigots and racists who live among us. It is time for us to deal with them as what they are, carriers of a virulent and infectious disease that threatens to destroy our country.

All too often "polite" people respond to racists remarks as though they were merely social slips, no more serious than a smudge on the speaker's face or a lapse in grammar. We hesitate to "make an issue." In short, we allow racism to be socially acceptable among decent people.

We must realize, before it is too late, that racism is just as evil and poisonous at coffee-breaks or cocktail parties as it is when it spews from the mouth of Stokely Carmichael or George Wallace, that its rot can spread just as effectively from a garden club as from a Klu Klux Klan.

Perhaps most of us are not crusaders, but this much we can do: speak up against racism wherever and whenever it appears! It is not tear gas and guns that will save our nation, but the quiet courage of ordinary people who believe in the principles that have made America great, and CARE ENOUGH TO SAY SO.

"Greea Power" Advocated.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have written to Borough Council and Township Committee:

This letter was conceived last week, but events and letters directed to Washington conspired to delay it. I am afraid that is part of our total problem — too little and too late! But I do have some thoughts on how combined municipal action in Princeton might right some wrongs.

I would suggest that you study the order that Mayor Lindsay of New York issued last week with regard to how all firms doing business with the city were to operate in the future. I urge that no monies be spent with any contractors, their subcontractors, suppliers etc. until and unless they have affirmed and make their records available, testifying to the fact of their open employment practices.

There are many unions in New Jersey that flagrantly ignore Fair Employment Practices. I understand there are laws on the books of the State of New Jersey that will empower you to do this and make it stick.

I know this is but a beginning step, but it is a fact that segments of our populations are systematically denied employment and apprenticeship in these unions. The cry should be GREEN POWER. That in the final analysis is what will move us.

Last week's meeting at the High School is a measure of our concern and I think that Mayor Patterson's suggestion for low and middle income housing were well received and should be implemented, other comments notwithstanding. I think too that Mrs. Johnson's words were to be heeded and that a Human Relations Commission should be appointed immediately. Perhaps people who do not know how to exert pressure at Township Hall could air their grievances here and then those who know how to make things work will take up the task.

Underlying much of what was said last night were vidences of economic steps that we as concerned citizens might employ. I am a firm believer in the effect of GREEN POWER and would suggest selective boycott is an answer.

SDS Proposal Criticized.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I must vehemently protest the action proposed by the Students for a Democratic Society in their confrontation with the Governor on April 11th that the police be kept off the streets in Trenton." This is an unfortunate and completely unrealistic proposal.

The prime purpose of the police is to maintain law and order so as to protect life and property. I, from time to time, have to go to Trenton, and God forbid if this aforementioned action is taken. While the proposal is based on concern and is an idealistic motive, it only gives aid and comfort to those in both communities who advocate violence.

It has been pointed out in both the Federal and State Riot Commission studies that the police should attempt to communicate with the ghetto community. But this cannot be done by the police being kept off the streets.

I, however, favor their proposal that they should have medical and legal help. However, the ghetto residents should have political and economic power. One hope for the latter is in the works of Dr. Howard Matthews, a neurosurgeon in New York City and a negro.

He proposes hotels, bus lines, advertising agencies and factories financed and run by the ghetto residents and supported by what he calls "Negro Dollars". In New York City this has had the support of both liberals and conservatives. This action should be supported not only by the S.D.S. but by other civil rights organizations.

This action of Dr. Matthews is not a panacea but it is preferable to the varied suggestions which I have heard. It will provide the bridge which we so desperately need ever since Dr. King died.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It is indeed stimulating to find an active controversy raging in your "Mailbox" columns concerning the value of our high school matinees at the McCarter Theatre.

I suggest a few facts be submitted concerning our high schoolers. The essential reason for this program is illustrated by the following excerpts from a letter which I recently received from a high school youth:

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

class from Mater Misericosdiae Academy in Merion to McCarter this morning (March 27). I wasn't really looking forward to the play too much, because, since we studied the play in English class, I knew the ending and everything else that would happen. But I loved the play and I loved McCarter! All of my friends agree with me." (Note: Underlining and exclamation point are the student's).

There are several factors which are important in this letter. First, the student and his friends enjoyed the production and thereby become potential adult theatre goers — a vital aspect in our efforts to maintain a "living" theatre. Also, the drama suddenly comes alive on the stage and the actual theatre experience is invaluable beyond question over the study of a text in the classroom.

A few statistics: 1) The student program accounts for a major percentage of McCarter's assets and thereby helps make the professional program possible. 2) The program continues to expand. We performed some 70 times for high schoolers this season (6,000 more than last year) and evening attendance was up by 10%.

3) Rules of conduct are not wanted or necessary. Only twice in some 70 times out did we have to interrupt the program to instruct perhaps 8 or 10 students that common consideration for their neighbors demanded that they restrain themselves in order that the other 1,000+ youngsters may hear the play.

Finally, the student audiences which converge upon the theatre each week are not the hoards of screaming, villainous, unnatural beasts that various critics maintain. These young people are, for the most part, intelligent, sensitive and worthy of our best efforts.

If they are not, Heaven help our poor nation a few years hence. Perhaps they require more understanding and sympathy and less chastisement. Even a little love wouldn't hurt.

BRYAN HULL

293 Nassau Street

Editor's note: Bryan Hull is an actor who was a member of the repertory company this season. Among his roles were Giles Corey in "The Crucible", the Chorus in "Dr. Faustus," and Bartholo in "The Marriage of Figaro."

On Behalf of Dr. Jaynes.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the many friends of Dr. Cornelia Jaynes for their thoughtful telegrams, calls and many letters received during this time of her critical illness in the "Intensive Care" section of Princeton Hospital. Dr. Jaynes is unable to receive mail or messages, but we are keeping careful track and will deliver them all to her as soon as her condition permits.

In regard to the new Foundation SAVE and its spaying program, this must of necessity be temporarily suspended until Dr. Jaynes is able to continue her splendid work.

Anyone who has been connected in any way with humane organizations knows that surplus and unwanted dogs and cats are the basic cause of the horror and cruelty in many dog pounds and medical experimental laboratories.

Hoping her many friends will help keep her dream alive during the time of her illness and feeling sure that Princeton is most appreciative of her generous and magnificent gift, we are Missing Dog Sought.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Since September I have been living in Iran with my family. I am heartbroken to learn for the first time that Suny, my beautiful Golden Retriever, has been missing since late August.

He wandered off while staying with friends at Haycock Mountain near Quakertown, Pa. All efforts so far to locate him have failed.

Suny is a full grown dog weighing about 75 pounds with his name tatooed on the inside of his ear. When last seen he was wearing a tag with my Geneseo, N. Y., address.

If you know where Suny is, please send a 13-cent aerogram to me: Janet Wright, c/o Fulbright Program, Box 1286, Tehran, Iran before June 1, 1968. After that I'll be at 16 Temple Hill Acres, Geneseo, N. Y. 14454.

If you have Suny could you please keep him for me until early July when I come home? I waited so long before I could have Suny, and I miss him very much! My Dad will gladly pay you for his keep.

Please help me find my Suny!!!

Discard It!

A large majority of the medicines used today to treat illness are potent in nature. For this reason it could be dangerous to use a prescription made for one person to treat what MAY APPEAR to be a similar condition in another person.

When a course of treatment for an illness is ended, the unused portion of the medicine should be discarded. If this is not financially practical, always consult your physician before using any medication you might have in your possession.

Self-Treatment!

The inclination to self-treat any illness is a natural one. However, in certain circumstances — especially where a condition persists for more than a few days — the practice can be dangerous.

Play it safe. Don't neglect an ailment that doesn't clear up promptly. Always consult your physician for proper diagnosis and treatment.

Back the Poverty Programs.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Community would like to urge all people of good will of our community to write to their state and national legislators requesting appropriations for poverty programs. It is important to indicate to our state legislators that we are willing to be taxed in order to pay for the programs necessary to meet the crisis in our land. Our state legislators have said that they are receiving a great deal of mail urging repressive measures and practically no support for positive legislation.

The League has a firm commitment to achieving "equality of opportunity in employment and education" and we urge our fellow citizens to do their bit so that "all men may be free."

Write From Mercer County:

Senators Sido Ridolfi or Richard Coffee, and Assemblymen William Schluter, John Selecky, Joseph Merlino and Howard Woodson, The State House, Trenton.

Representative Frank Thompson, Jr., House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

From Somerset County: Senator Raymond Bateman, Assemblyman John H. Ewing and Webster Tood, The State House, Trenton.

Representative Peter Frelinghuysen, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Senators Clifford Case and Harrison Williams, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.

LOOKS WORSE THAN IT IS: Both Ray Snedeker (right) and George Localio do not believe that the United States is drifting toward anarchy. Mr. Locallo says that overexposure in the newscasts and newspapers makes the appearance of lawlessness seem worse than it is.

Question Of The Week

Question: In your opinion, is America drifting toward anarchy?

Where asked: Around town.

Ray Snedeker, Shore Drive, Kingston, associated with H. A. Snedeker's Sons, Builders, Kingston: No, I don't think so. It's only a small percentage of the people who are involved in these disturbances, not the large majority. It's just the publicity it gets that makes it look bad.

George Localio, Skillman, carpenter for Snedeker Builders: No. It sounds worse than it is because the newscasts and the newspapers devote so much attention to it. This gets the headlines over the normal happenings of life.

Mrs. Stuart Dreier, 472 Stockton Street, chairman of the Princeton Hospital Fete car raffle: I'm afraid it is. All the lack of respect for law and order. One must work within the exisiting frame of laws for change. People are advocating impatience. It's terrible.

Fred English, 290 Prospect Avenue, lawyer: No, I don't. I think history reveals that there have been quite a few previous occasions where there has been much more lawlessness than is evident today.

Miss Deborah Nelson, Kendall Park, physical education teacher: It seems like it is but I don't think it could. There are too many smart people around.

Sid Gottfried, Highland Park, accountant: I would say not. I think it is the only way, in such an enormous country like this with its 200,000,000 people, where 100,000 or even a million people can express an opinion. They have to put on some kind of display to get a place in the papers. Something outside the normal stream of protest, such as writing to your congressman.

Chris Waugh, Dodd Hall, Princeton University sophomore: I'd say yes, because of the riots nationally in the cities. I know there might be a tendency to underrate it — that the American Dream is too strong for such a thing to happen — but I would say, yes, we're heading for anarchy unless something is done and done rapidly.

Kenneth Levin, Graduate College, graduate student, Oriental Studies: In my opinion, no. I think that we are going through a period of great unrest in this country now and I see that there are going to be some profound changes in our society, both political and social. However, I have a great deal of hope for this country: I think we can solve our problems and I think it will come in the near future.

R. H. Scanlan, 80 Murray Place, Professor of Engineering, Princeton University: I don't think so. I think now maybe we'll come out all right. It had me worried for a while, though. It will take a little time for everyone to get organized but I think law and order will prevail.

Miss Beatrice Stemerding, Sycamore Road, family governess from Holland: I don't think the whole of America is drifting toward anarchy—just a part of it. The groups that are rioting for the moment. And the student riots. I think the laws in America will be changed before it's allowed to become anarchy. I hope so.

Walter Pilgrim, Princeton-Windsor Apartments, graduate student, Princeton Seminary: I would say there are certain signs of a general breakdown of what we consider to be right and wrong and respect for authority. But I guess I have enough faith in our society as a whole. I just don't think it will get to that point — at least it won't if I have anything to say about it, if I can help in any way.

George Miles, Trenton, stock clerk for Union Camp: No, I think not. It's not that major. The conflict between the races is the main thing. It's destructive but I wouldn't go as far as to say it's anarchy.

Scott Weinstein, 1939 Hall, University senior: No, because, if anything, in response to situations where citizens seem to lose one set of values there will probably be a reaction toward more central control. Whereas in the past, central control has been exercised within economically the people in power realize now they need more sophisticated methods of control. Now they will have to control social values as well.

SPECIAL LECTURE SET On Sex Education. The Princeton Area Committee on Sex Education is sponsoring a public lecture by Dr. Mary S. Calderone next Thursday, April 25, which may lead to the establishment of a kindergarten-through-12th grade program on sex education in the public school system.

Dr. Calderone, national executive director of SIECUS (Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S.), speaks at 8 p.m. in the boys' gym at Princeton High School. The meeting is open to the public, with parents, teachers, upperclassmen of the high schools and independent school and concerned aduks especially invited. There will be a donation of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The Princeton Committee is composed of representatives of the clergy from the three major faiths, of physicians, educators from public and independent schools, and representatives of the PTA's, PTO's and other community groups. It came into existance as a result of a series of meetings last year between representatives of the Princeton Pastors' Association and Princeton physicians over areas of mutual concern.

Dr. Calderone, medical director for Planned Parenthood Federation of America for 11 years, made the first proposal for such an organization as SIECUS in 1961. The astonishing growth of this voluntary health agency to a position of natural importance and wide recognition as a resource to schools, communities and organizations has confirmed the accuracy of Dr. Calderone's vision.

The stated purpose of SIECUS is "to establish man's sexuality as a health entity." In the present controversy over who should teach what to whom, Dr. Calderone's concern for responsible sex education has led her to become an increasingly-heard voice in the growing maturity of attitudes about sex.

A graduate of Vassar and of the University of Rochester Medical School, she holds a master of Public Health degree from Columbia. She is a member of the Family Life Commission of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and of the liaison committee on Family Life Education of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and an associate member of the American Association of Marriage Counselors.

Dr. Caldrone is the daughter of Edward Steichen, noted photographer, and wife of Dr. Frank Caldrone, former deputy health commissioner of New York City who served as chief administrative officer of the World Health organization for five years and as director of health services for the United Nations Secretariat for four years. She is a member of the Society of Friends.

JOGGING CLASS PLANNED For YM-YWCA Members. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kohut will instruct a YM-YWCA class in jogging, to be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings, beginning Monday to last through June 13.

Mr. Kohut, a veteran of the AAU's Boston Marathon, will work out plans of relaxed walking and running for each individual. Men, Women and teenagers are eligible, under a men's affiliated membership or a women's YWCA membership and a $10 YWCA fee.

Who's the catch?
There isn't any.
$1,699 is the suggested retail price of the Sport of entry for the VW sedan
The price includes Federal excise tax and import duty.
It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rear view mirror, and seat belts front and back.
Not to mention the padded dash and front seat headrests.
It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.
What else do you have to pay?
The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.
There is one optional that makes a lot of sense. The matching leatherette upholstery. For $30.00 extra. (Nearly everybody gets it because it eliminates the need for slipcovers.)
Well, that's it.
Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

AFTER 35 YEARS . . .

Bill Boothron's Record Broken. On a sun-baked day in July, 1933, Bill Bonthron of Princeton and Jack Lovelock of New Zealand both broke the existing world record for the mile run. The setting was the meet in Palmer Stadium between Princeton and Cornell and the touring Oxford Cambridge team.

Lovelock, the winner, was clocked in 4:07.8; Bonthron, whose tremendous kick was the motivating factor behind the New Zealander's record shattering performance, was timed in 4:08.7. The race made international headlines and became the fuse that touched off the long series of dramatic mile races from that day to the present.

With the steady improvement in physical ability of young men over a period of more than three decades, all but one of the records in the Princeton book has been bettered. Some have been shaved consistently — but no one could top 4:08.7 for four laps around the track.

Last Saturday, before a handful of spectators in cavernous Franklin Field, Al Andreini, a slimly-built Princeton senior, ran the mile in 4:08 flat. After 35 years, Bill Bonthron's record had finally succumbed to the test of time.

Bonnie, who also held Princeton marks in the half-mile, two mile and 1,500 meters, is an executive with Price, Waterhouse in New York. He lives on The North Road and is president of the board of governors at Springdale Golf Club.

Other Records Set. In its 92-to-62 victory over Penn Saturday, Coach Pete Morgan's team set two other Princeton marks. Sophomore Eamon Downey ran the two-mile in 9:12, bettering by 2.1 seconds the record set two years ago. A 15-year old mark in the shot-put was broken by Bill Schopf, whose heave of 52 feet, 1 inch topped the old mark that had stood since 1953.

Saturday at 2 in Palmer Stadium, the Tigers will entertain Harvard, with varsity and freshman meets to be staged simultaneously. Always a track power, the Crimson has more depth and balance than Princeton can match, and seems sure to continue its winning ways over the Orange and Black which date back to before World War II.

HOW GOOD IS THE CREW?

Partial Answer This Weekend. Each year for the past seven now, Princeton's crew has defeated Navy, invariably giving rise to the hope that if it can handle an opponent that almost invariably ranks well up in eastern rowing circles, it may have a successful season.

Not once, however, in the last half-dozen years of success against the middies have the Tigers gone on to win either the Compton Cup (against Harvard and MIT) or the Carnegie Cup (against Cornell and Yale). Rarely, as a matter have fact, have they bested both Penn and Columbia in the race for the Childs Cup.

Last Saturday, on the unusually quiet Severn River, Princeton again took Navy's measure, impressively over a 2,000-meter course by a good two and a half lengths. The Tigers pulled away from an even race after a quarter of the distance had been covered and won in 6:37.1. The victory completed a highly successful day for Coach Pete Sparhawk, who saw his jayvees win by just under a length and his freshmen by almost three.

This weekend, Penn will defend the Childs Cup, which it has won for the past two seasons, against Princeton and Columbia. The race will be rowed on the Harlem River, with the Quakers installed as the favorite off their long standing ability over short distances and their veteran personnel.

LACROSSE TEAM LOSES

To Army and Navy. Minus its regular goalie, who appears to be out for the season with a fractured collar bone, Princeton's lacrosse team nonetheless gave Navy a scare on the middies' field Saturday. The Tigers led, 4-3, at the half before losing, 8-6.

Dick Reynolds, the Princeton resident who was heading for a fine season in his senior year, was injured in practice last week and sophomore Willard Reynolds — no relation — now has the job as goalie. His introduction to varsity lacrosse against Navy, which tied for the national championship in 1967, was a rough one but helped prepare him for the Ivy action ahead.

The Tigers were no worse than 5-5 after three periods, but Navy broke the tie 33 sec onds into the final round and held the lead thereafter. Earlier in the week, they had stayed with Army here doring the early going, before dropping a 9-4 decision.

Following the Rutgers game at New Brunswick this Wednesday, the Tigers will be out of action until they begin defense of their league title at Cambridge a week from Saturday. Penn on May 1 and Yale three days later are the first Ivy foes booked here.

BALL TEAM IN TROUBLE

Offense Non-Existent. It may, actually, be somewhat to the Princeton baseball team's credit that it won one of its three games last week while scoring only four runs. In between a 10-0 shellacking by Villanova and a 4-1 loss to Navy, the Tigers edged Temple, 3 to 2.

Junior Mike Fremuth, who has the potential to be a better than average college pitcher, was the loser in both games. He had nothing to show against Villanova, on a chill, wet afternoon, and against Navy, his two throwing errors in the first inning were instrumental in getting the middies off to a 3-0 lead — more than enough to win.

An error by third baseman Jim Adams got Fremuth into a hole almost as soon as the game began, and he dug it deeper with two inaccurate attempts to nail runners going into second on potential double play balls. The Tigers then proceeded to fall victim to a near traditional bugaboo here — they made more errors (five) than they did hits (three), and never got back into contention.

In between the defents, senior Steve Cushmore did a fine job on Temple, defeating a team that came into the game with a 9-2 mark. Victory came with two away in the last of the ninth when sophmore Bo Hunter broke up a 2-2 ball game by singling, stealing second and riding home on short stop Todd Faulkner's line drive between second and third.

St. John's, almost invariably an NCAA participant at the end of the season, will be here Thursday at 3:30, with Cornell at Clarke Field Saturday at 2. NYU will be Tuesday's opponent.

PHS SWAMPS LARRIES

For 3-0 Record. Oh, how sweet it is!

The Princeton High School nine rose up against Lawrenceville School, which it had not defeated for the past several years, and hurried the Larries Saturday under a 12 hit, 12 run attack for a stunning 12-0 victory.

In three games, the Little Tigers have scored 22 runs. Four members are slugging the ball at a .400 clip — Thom Yoder, Tom Butterfoss, Dave Drake and Nick Arcaro. In contrast, the PHS pitching has yielded only three runs in three games and has struck out 21. Happiness for PHS coach Harry Zoll is the start of the 1968 season.

To keep its momentum, PHS will have to conquer Trenton Thursday afternoon at the PHS diamond. Friday, the Blue and White will entertain the Hun School, (3:45) which has looked impressive in winning its first two, and Tuesday afternoon it will meet Ewing for the second time this season. The latter game will be held here, starting at 4.

Haring Gets Win. Sophomore Chris Haring, in his first start on the mound for PHS, held Lawrenceville (1-2) in check, limiting the losers to four hits. He struck out three and walked one.

Chris worked with great economy, getting many batters to go for the first pitch. His control was near perfect.

Meanwhile, his teammates were scoring with abandon. PHS pushed three runs across in the second, fifth and seventh innings. It added a pair in the third and a single tally in the sixth.

In the second, Bill Walstad tripled home Bob Salek, who had walked, and then scored on a wild pitch. Yoder then singled home Haring who had gotten on via a two-base error.

In the fifth, Arcaro singled home one run, after a Dave Drake single, a walk to Haring and a bunt single by Yoder had loaded the bases. Butterfoss then singled home Haring and Yoder.

Singles by Butterfoss, Tom Graham and Drake were the offensive blows in Princeton's three-run seventh frame. Drake, the team's shortstop, was three for four. Yoder went two for-three and Arcaro, two for four.

Ewing Falls, 4-1 On Thursday, PHS, behind the strong pitching of Yoder, defeated Ewing, 4-1.

Yoder fanned 10, and the one run against him was unearned. He gave up four hits, in winning his second straight.

PHS scored all the runs it needed in the first inning. After Yoder and Hal Logan had walked, Butterfoss singled home one run. Salek's fielder's choice accounted for the second.

The victors added a pair of insurance runs in the fifth when Walstad tripled in one run and Nick Ryan singled.

STICKMEN LOSE 5-0

To Hanover Park. Princeton High School's lacrosse team suffered its second setback in as many starts last week when it was blanked by Hanover Park, 5-0.

Originally, the contest had been scheduled for Saturday, but it was moved up to Thursday to accommodate the host team Hanover Park which didn't want to play during the Easter weekend. The match with Peddie, originally set for April 9 and rescheduled for May 13, has been dropped permanently.

Coach Bob Arbegast's Little Tigers will entertain Boonton Saturday afternoon at 2 at Community Park. Wednesday the team will be at Montclair.

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features.

Thomforde, Kearney Named

Chris Thomforde, 6-9 center of the Princeton basketball team, and Jerry Kearney, a forward who skated on the first line in hockey, have been named captains of their respective sports for next winter.

Thomforde averaged 15 points per game in his sophomore year and 12.2 points this past season. Kearney was the highest scoring member of the Tiger skaters with 19 goals and a total of 34 points. His two-year total is 59 points.

Joe Heiser, three-year veteran and captain of the 1967-68 basketball team, won the Bunn Trophy for all-around ability and sportsmanship. The comparable trophy in hockey, the Blackwell Cup, was awarded jointly to Terry Peterman and Tom Rawls.

counter, Arbegast inserted a new goalie, sophomore Rich Oberman, who normally toils as a midfielder. "Rich made 21 saves, which is pretty good," commented Arbegast.

"Our main problem," he continued, "is offense. Our defense held up pretty well."

PHS TRACKMEN LOSE

Franklin Here Tuesday. Scoring sweeps in the 100, 220 and javelin — a 27-0 margin in just three events — Ewing went on to defeat visiting PHS Thursday, 60-46. The setback was the Little Tigers' second in three dual meets.

Paul Mazzarella won both the low and high hurdles for Princeton, and Charlie Madden finished first in the shot. Keith Lawder, Princeton's undefeated two-miler, just missed breaking ten minutes as he won his specialty in 10:02. Larry Rossell had tied for first place in the pole vault but had to settle for second on the basis of more misses.

Coach Larry Ivan's track squad will be at Bridgewater-Raritan Friday. On Tuesday in a 4 p.m. contest it will play host to Franklin.

Against Ewing, PHS was hamstrung by the absence of some of its members who were in Europe under a Latin program and by three more who were away for college interviews. "It hurt us quite a bit," said Ivan.

To shore up the 100 and 220 which are acknowledged by Ivan to be "probably our weakest events" Ivan is encouraging boys to take a crack at the sprints. One "complete surprise" he mentioned was co-captain Al Moring who competed exclusively last year in the broad and high jumps. Moring turned in a 10.6 against Ewing — his best yet.

HUN WINS FIRST TWO

At PHS Friday. Scoring five runs in the last two innings, Hun School came from behind to defeat Germantown Friends Thursday, 7-5, on the latter's home diamond to win its second game in two starts. Earlier, it had breezed past Pennington School in its opener, 9-1.

The Red and Black will take the short trip across town Friday afternoon to tangle with the Little Tigers at 3:45 on the PHS diamond. The nex day it will entertain Bryn Athyn at 2:30 in its second home game of the season and on Wednesday it will host George School in a 3:15 contest.

Hun freshman Richard Ziegler, in relief of senior Billy Mann, won last week's free swinging battle with the Quakers. All 12 runs were scored in the last four innings.

Outfielder Steve Peters collected two of Hun's seven hits, driving in a pair of runs with a homer and a single. Shortstop Herman Szeker and Ziegler tripled for the victors and Howie Steinberg, Chris Short and Mike Rossi, singled.

In the opener against Pennington, co-captain Ken Kelly set down home-team Pennington on two hits, losing his shutout in the last inning when the Red Raiders scored their lone run on two Hun errors.

Peters drove in three Hun runs in the sixth on a triple. Catcher Dick Mate batted in a pair. Peters, Mate, co-captain Tommy Hewel, Rossi and second baseman Dick Embley all stroked singles for Hun.

Pennington compounded its own problems by committing four errors.

FIFTEEN BOATS RACE

In Carnegie Events. The Carnegie Sailing Club brought out 15 boats to enjoy Easter Sunday's light winds and sunshine, sponsoring two events.

Jerry Lawson, with wife Nancy as crew, survived shifting breezes to take first place among four sloops. With the crews skippering, Nancy Lawson again led the pack.

Dexter Miller, with daughter Hope crewing, took top honors against ten other Penguins. Robby Holt led the Penguins when crew turned skipper.

I keep track of every Penny!

Today's housewife has a big business on her hands.

Buying for the family is almost a full-time job. On how well the wife manages depends much of the family's financial stability.

An important way in which the modern housewife keeps track of every penny she spends is to maintain her own personal checking account.

Paying by check — each and every purchase is recorded. No question about the bill being paid, when there is a cancelled check to prove payment.

All the same benefits which business finds so useful in paying by check are yours, as a housewife, when you open and maintain your own personal checking account at the Princeton Bank.

The cost is moderate and you save time and money in handling all payments by check. Before another day of handling your vital home financial management functions — open a PB checking account.

A visit to any of the three convenient offices will start you off — right!

CRANFORD BLANKED

By PHS in Tennis Opener.

Princeton High School's tennis team won all three of its singles matches and both doubles events to blank visiting Pennsbury (Pa.) High School last week, 5-0.

Perhaps the most exciting match was Bill Liederman's protracted 9-11, 6-3, 8-6 victory in the number two singles match. "It was a good set to watch," commented PHS coach Bob Orr.

Ted Fritch, the Little Tigers' number one singles player won in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3, as did Robby Sonnenschein, 6-3, 6-0.

Other Sports on Page 16

The number one doubles team of John Panzer and Scott Raaum won, 8-4, 6-3. Ted Ford and Billy Carroll triumphed 6-4, 6-2.

The Blue and White netmen will be at Somerville on Friday and at Cathedral on Wednesday. The team was scheduled to meet its neighborhood rival, The Hun School Wednesday on its own courts, starting at 3:45.

NCA FINISHES FIRST

Loses Playoffs. Undefeated in regular season play, NCA lost the championship game in the post-season playoffs to the Hospital 50-49, in the YMCA Basketball League.

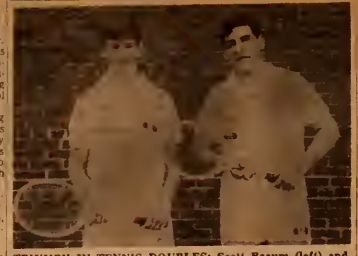
A jump shot by Jim Young with seven seconds remaining gave Hospital the victory. NCA came down court as the last seconds ticked off, but could not score. Billie Hill led the Medics with 18 points, while Jack Oherding was high for the losers with 16.

FMC defeated ETS 61-50 in the consolation final. John Springer of the YMCA presented individual trophies to NCA players and the winning championship cup for the team's first-place finish during the season. The Hospital received the tournament trophy.

HIGH SERIES RECORDED

In Women's League. Marilyn Silvester of Rosso's Cafe rolled 236-178-148 for a fine 562 series last week in the Princeton Women's Bowling League.

Teammate Flo Ivins had a 202 as these two helped Rosso's capture the high team series of 2435. Hampshire House claimed the high team game of 878.



TRIUMPH IN TENNIS DOUBLES: Scott Raaum (left) and John Panzer, the number one doubles team on the Princeton High School tennis team won their first match of the season last week, a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Pennsbury.

Other individual high scores were those of Shirley Blazier, 189-176; Marilyn Wilson, 183; Audrey Landis, 181; Helen Scott, 180; Sara Rose, 179; and Vivian Strycharz, 174.

It was position night last week and Swift's Colonial Diner made the most of it. It swept all its games with Rocky & Sons for eight points and the lead, 48 to 44. Rosso's also captured eight points from Kingsway Motors to climb into third place, four points behind the second-place Rockey & Sons.

Another substantial gainer was Hampshire House which also gained eight points at the expense of Turney Motors to move into fourth-place. Tiger 5 outpointed Rug Mart Yard sticks, 6-2, the same margin Mike's Sinclair Station posted over Cranbury Bank.

BOWLING NOTES

Destefano Bowler of Week. Mike Destefano of Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 380 is the recipient of the TOWN TOPICS Award for the high single game of the week. Mike, who rolls in the Nassau League, had a 244.

Bill Whatley rolled 619 on games of 182-222-215 and Mike Pinelli had 226-157-228 — 611. Tom Sculerati fashioned a pair of 204s and Bill Whitney had 201-206. Sandwiched between 215 and 200 were John Baldino, Elmer Perantoni, Philip Guadioso, Tom Wood, Ernie Hunt, George Pierre and John Cifelli.

Tiger Garage still leads the Nassau League standing with 62 points. Grover Lumber (59) Princeton Aviation (58) and R&D Atlantic (56) follow.

Two solid cracks at a 700 series highlighted action in the A League. All Bill Penelli needed was final game 206, which wasn't asking too much, considering he had started with 257-237. Instead he fell off to 176 for 670.

Fred Procaccini started with a modest 201 but got progressively hotter, rolling 218-256 for 675. Jim Kabny of second-place Ivy Inn helped the Inn gain two points on league leading Balestrieri with his 226-206-190 — 622. Ed Duncan Sr. had 206-200.

High single games were Don Snyder's 232, Al Hibbard's 218 and 212s by Bill Murphy, Nick Cifelli and Jerry Perpetua.

Balestrieri has the lead over Ivy Inn 55-52 while Nini Leasing and Maul Electric are all even at 48. Prince Town Del and Princeton Inn are tied for fourth with 46 each.

In the Tri-County Firemen's League, former Town Topics winner Bill Whatley had a 255. Stan Tantum of Dutch Neck and Bill Davall of Mercer No. 3, each rolled 607 series, Stans best game a 221 and Bill's a 238. Dick Anderson rebounded from an opening 163 to 226-204 for 593.

Bob Shafer, Gib Ireland, George Luck Bud Reading, and Bill Richardson were between 213 and 202.

Mercer No. 3's lead was cut to two points over Rocky Hill and Hook & Ladder "1," which are tied for second, 42-40. Last week its margin was six. Lawrenceville is fourth with 38.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!
